Vandenberg For Separate German Pact

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 3 (AP)—Sen. Vandenberg (R.) of Michigan today advocated a separate peace with Germany if the council of foreign ministers remains deadlocked through this winter.

While granting qualified endorsement to the Marshall Plan, the Senate president maintained "Germany" restoration to viable autonomy is at the core of Europe's rehabilitation.

"It is infinitely preferable for the council of foreign ministers to come to United terms," Vandenberg said in an address prepared for delivery at a University of Michigan convocation marking the centennial of Dutch colonization in Michigan.

"But I am saying that disagreement—here or elsewhere—cannot be allowed to postpone peace, rehabilitation and self-government forever," he added. "Peace must have priority."

Vandenberg also urged a change in the United Nations charter under which the veto would apply "solely to the use of armed force."

BLASTS COMMUNISM

He attacked "world-wide Communist attitudes which most of us believe are incompatible with . . . peace."

Finally, he demanded a "totally adequate American national defense" although he added that "I decline to proceed on the tragic theory that war is inevitable."

Vandenberg accused Russia of frustrating economic unity of the occupied zones in Germany in violation of the Potsdam agreement.

"I am unable to believe that German peace conference could not preponderantly find common ground," he continued. "If the council of foreign ministers still deadlocks this winter, it had better adjourn sine die (without setting a date for reconvening).

"The peace conference should be called by those who do agree . . . to write a practical, reasonable peace for the German areas within its jurisdiction."

Touching on the veto power, Vandenberg said the Soviet Union, "acting strictly within its legal rights, has virtually paralyzed the Security Council by its 20 vetoes."

FAVORS MARSHALL PLAN

The issue between east and west, he continued, is underscored by Communist attitudes "incompatible" with peace.

"On the one hand," he went on, "this involves the subversive infiltration of other nations. On the other hand it involves forceful imposition of the rigors of the 'police state' wherever Communism gets control."

The Senator demanded to know the "total bill" for the Marshall Plan "including China," adding that "we cannot indefinitely underwrite the world."

Following a frank canvass of America's resources and under a sound administration with adequate co-operation, he said, he is in agreement with Secretary Marshall's plan to aid Europe.

Parole Chief's Noxon Pardon Report Soon

Question of whether or not John F. Noxon, Jr., of Pittsfield, whose death sentence for the electrocution of his mentally deficient six-months-old son was cummuted to life imprisonment, should be given a full pardon moved a step nearer decision today.

Parole Board Chairman Matthew W. Bullock announced he had started work today on his report of the case to Gov. Bradford and the Executive Council and hoped to have it completed by the end of the week.

Almost three weeks ago, State Corrections Comr. J. Paul Doyle, in a letter to the governor, recommended a full pardon in the interest ..not of leniency but of justice."

Doyle noted the conflict in medical testimony in the case, as pointed out by Dr. Alan R. Moritz, State pathologist, who testified for the Commonwealth in Noxon's trial. Doyle expressed the belief there was a "reasonable doubt" of Noxon's guilt.

Still awaited at the State House was a report from Dist. Atty. Charles R. Alberti, of Berkshire County, who is expected to oppose the pardon.

Atty.-Gen. Clarence A. Barnes also will file a report in the case but said his would not be forthcoming until the others were in the hands of the Governor.

LOAD EUROPE-AID SHIP

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3 (AP)—Stevedores this week will begin loading 349,000 bushels of wheat on the SS Julian Poydras for one of the first shipments to food-starved Europe under President Truman's emergency food program.

Roxbury El Buses In Crash, Score Hurt

More than a score of passengers were injured today, two seriously, when one El bus plowed into the rear of another at the junction of Washington, Dudley and Roxbury sts., Roxbury.

Five police ambulances took 17 men and women to City Hospital. Two women were carried into the hospital on stretchers. Several others were treated at the scene.

The buses were operated by John H. Marshall, 49, Nixon pl., Allston, and Joseph J. Kearney, 32, Florence st., Roslindale. Force of the collision shattered bus windows and sent glass flying into the interiors, cutting several passengers.

The two stretcher cases were Mrs. Mary T. Reidy, 40, Horadan way, Roxbury, and Rosa Piazza, 22, Washington st., Natick, who had been visiting a sister in Shetland st., Roxbury. Their injuries were not immediately determined.

Among others taken to the hospital were Mrs. Anna Curtis, 74, a widow, Washington st., Roxbury, and Mrs. Drusilla Marshall, 48, Fort ave., Roxbury. Mary F. Eagan, Tremont st., Roxbury, told police she would consult her private physician.

Police said Kearney had stopped his bus to permit traffic to pass. Marshall was driving a bus behind him and applied the brakes. Both buses were bound for Allston.

Mikolajczyk In Britain Given Refuge

LONDON, Nov. 3 (AP)—Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, leader of the wartime Polish government-in-exile, was reported in Commons today to have reached Britain by air for sanctuary promised by the British government.

Amid lour cheers, Christopher Mayhew, Under Secretary of State for foreign affairs, told Commons that "I have been informed that Mr. Mikolajczyk arrived in this country and was given leave to land."

Mikoljczyk disappeared from Warsaw two weeks ago. His whereabouts remained a mystery until today. The Polish government already had ordered an inquiry into his flight into exile.

Meyhew reported that Mokolajczyk had landed at Manston airfield, southeast of London. There was no immediately indication as to the nationality or the type of aircraft in which he made his way to Britain.

Brighton Girl Is Heroine of Plane Crisis

A 24-year-old Brighton girl was lauded today as the heroine whose courageous example kept 34 passengers calm for two tense hours as a huge transport plane hovered over Logan Airport anticipating a crash landing.

Passengers agreed the stewardess, Jeanne O'Donnell of Matchett st., kept the group from panic and by her resourcefulness relieved mounting anxiety as the Northeast airliner circled with landing gear that appeared to balk at being locked.

A red light on the instrument panel indicated to the veteran pilot, Capt. Alva R. Marsh, 40, of Plummer ave., Winthrop, that the landing gear might buckle when he set the heavy craft down.

He flew low over the control tower to allow observers to scan his landing gear, dumped extra gasoline to lighten his load, then made a practice landing try that convinced him the wheels were locked and a landing could safely be made. A ground examination disclosed the light was faulty.

Mrs. George Lytton of Chestnut st., Beacon Hill, one of the group returning from New York, said:

"The stewardess was wonderful. She kept us reassured all the time. I have never seen such a magnificent display of control. Nobody got out of the seats, and there was no alarm."

An emergency call from the control tower brought fire apparatus, police cars and ambulances to the field, and the big plane was set down on a runway lined with hastily-assembled rescue vehicles.

HARRY THAW JUDGE DIES

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Nov. 3 (AP)—Former State Supreme Court Justice Joseph Morschauser, 84, who, during his 26 years on the bench, presided over many cases that drew nationwide attention, including part of the Harry K. Thaw affairs, died at his home today after an illness of more than 10 years.

Holdup Suspect Identified As Woman Slugger

Ernest C. Bortone, 35, former Concord and State Prison inmate and one of several suspects rounded up in investigation of last week's $140,000 payroll holdups in Hyde Park and South Boston, was identified today by a Weston clubwoman as one of three men who slugged her last April.

Mrs. John Kronenberg, 33, Newton st., Weston, accompanied by Det. Harlan Berry, of Weston, arrived at headquarters after the morning showup but was given an opportunity to view Bortone in an impromptu lineup in the detective bureau.

"That is one of the men," she said as she pointed to Bortone. "I am sure of it. I thought I might not remember their features but the minute I saw this man, I knew he was one of them."

Mrs. Kronenberg was slugged several times with gun butts by three men she confronted as they emerged from her ransacked home when she was returning from a shoping trip last April 7. Approximately $500 in valuables was taken from her home by the three men.

Mrs. Ernest Bortone

Bortone also is named in a warrant charging him with the $427 robbery of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Seigal and Miss Ida Brown in the Seigal home in Crescent st., Dorchester, last April. Police are holding him for later appearance in Dorchester court on this charge.

In the lineup today, he said he was a traveling salesman, buying articles in Florida and returning here to sell them. He said his last address in this area was in Commonwealth ave., West Newton, that he had been on the road from June to September and that he and his bride had been staying with relatives since their return.

OFFERS ALIBI

He insisted he was on the road at the time of the $110,000 Sturtevant Blower plant holdup in Hyde Park Thursday and the $29,000 American Sugar Refinery Co. payroll theft in South Boston only 24 hours later.

While Bortone, who was arrested at the home of a relative of his recent bride, the former Eileen Harlow, was being questioned today, George E. Hayes, captured in Cambridge Saturday after being at liberty since his escape from State Prison last Sept. 19, was taken to Charlestown court in an ambulance from City Hospital.

Hayes suffered fractures of the right arm and pelvis when he plunged 40 feet from a rear window of a Cambridge apartment building early Saturday in an effort to elude police.

ARRAIGNED IN GARAGE

Remaining in the ambulance, Hayes was arraigned in the garage of the City Sq. police station before Judge Thomas Fitzpatrick on a complaint by Warden Francis J. W. Lanigan, of State prison, charging him with escaping last Sept. 19.

Hayes pleaded guilty but Judge Fitzpatrick informed him he was entitled to a hearing and ordered a plea of not guilty entered. When Hayes waived further examination, Judge Fitzpatrick ordered him held in $50,000 for the November sitting of the grand jury.

He was removed to the Norfolk State Prison Colony Hospital where he will be treated for his injuries.

Meanwhile, police, still smarting over two successful payroll thefts in a period of 24 hours,

Girl, 21, Convicted Of Bigamy in Quincy

Violet Anderson Reed Bettina, 21, formerly of Los Angeles, was found guilty in Quincy court today of bigamy and given a six-month suspended sentence, a penalty she observed by wiring her father in Los Angeles for money with which to go home.

Police said, that according to Violet, she married Edward F. Reed, a sailor at Riverdale, Cal., on May 12, 1945, she had met him while a student at the Riverside Polytechnical High School.

She told police she had left Reed's home after trouble with his parents and went to San Diego, where she met Bettina, 23, of Quincy, then a sailor attached to the Naval Air Base there. She said she married Bettina Oct. 2 after his discharge, under the name of Theresa Zari, the ceremony being performed by a justice of the peace at Yuma, Ariz.

The couple came to Quincy Oct. 8 and went to live with Bettina's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Bettina of Arlington st. Violet told police she had told Bettina she had been married, but failed to tell him she was not divorced.

Letters she continued to receive from Reed and her refusal to be remarried in a religious ceremony made the older Bettina suspicious and he notified police. She was arrested at a Granite st. rooming house where she had gone to live Oct. 25, police said.

Deny Satira's Face Bruised After Killing

By JAMES RUSSELL

HAVANA, Nov. 3 (INS)—Medical evidence charging that John Lester Mee was mentally unbalanced by war fatigue was promised by the defense today when the murder trial of 22-year-old dancer Patricia ("Satira") Schmidt was resumed in Havana's Audiencia court.

Dr. Rene Castellanos, attorney for the Toledo, O., defendant, told correspondents he is planning to call in a noted Cuban psychiatrist some time this week to testify.

First witness as the trial got under way again was Joan Gregory, an American employe of the Anglo-American Hospital where Mee died after Miss Schmidt shot hi mithrough the neck aboard the yacht Satira in Havana Harbor.

She testified that she saw Patricia visit the hospital several times but did not see any bruises on her face.

The dancer has said Mee kicked and beat her unmercifully before she picked up a gun and fired when he allegdly thratnd to kill hr with a sword she sused in one of her exotic dances.

3-Day Cavalcade of Woe Besets Lake on Reich Tour

By AUSTEN LAKE
Boston American Staff Correspondent

SCHWEINFURT, Germany (With theU. S. Constabulary)—If the "rule-of-three" holds true, my troubles are ended. For the last three days I've had plenty of luck, but it's all been bad. Beginning day before yesterday with being jeeped to the wrong airfield at a two-hour time loss, then a fruitless 300-mile flight to Munich in search of an apparently non-existent Czech consul, the mysterious disappearance of my musette bag, a run-in with a rank-proud major, returning to Straubing to find a strange lieutenant occupying my bed, stepping on my wrist watch, burning a cigaret hole in my only tunic.

Second day—A fog bank thick as oyster stew grounded the L-5 plane flight to Schweinfurt; finally wangled a half-breed car composed of a Chevrolet body and a German "Opal" engine which quit on the hills beyond Regensburg and took three hours to clear a faulty feedline; raining nickels and dimes; headlights wouldn't work on reaching Nuernberg after dark; spent 90 minutes creeping through streets as black as the inside of a cow, to the Press Camp at Stein castle, only to find that it wasn't a press camp any more. And so 90 minutes back to the battered town and bed in the Grand Hotel, whose only claim to grandeur in cell-like rooms that would be brutal in Mt. Mellory's Trappist monastery in Cork. (They call it "Hotel Buchenwald.")

Third day—Finally located elusive Czech consul, who cheerfully agreed to visa my passport to Pilsen until he found I was newspaper, then said he would have to get "permission" from Prague (probably Russians) and could I come back in five days? Only train to Schweinfurt at 4:30 a. m. next morning. Finally hired jeep which managed 110 kilometers over dirt, sink-hole roads in six hours of pelting rain, gear-shift jammed; lights short-circuited. But I'm here! Hope that rule-of-three works!

EPIDEMIC OF SNAGS

No complaint, mind you! Merely a recital of how an epidemic of snags will suddenly plague a traveling correspondent after a run of reasonably smooth fortunes. The dice fall that way sometimes. Tomorrow the skies may smile again.

Transportation! Ah, there's a word to conjure with, in this pre-occupied occupation army. The hardest job in Germany is that of the motor pool sergeant, who seldom has more than a few broken-down jeeps, all rebuilt at least once. Result is that noncoms and officers, who have saved sufficient money, are paying $1200 for any old, dilapidated hulk and having it patched by German mechanics. Those who can are importing cars from state-side (shipped and delivered free).

Others are going to Denmark, which seems to have an abundance of U. S.-made cars, and paying super-black market prices,

Sub-Freezing Wave Skips Hub

While some inland points reported sub-freezing temperatures early today which resulted in light frosts, Boston's minimum was 40 degrees at 5:30, three degrees higher than recorded at the same hour Sunday.

The normal minimum for the date is 39 and normal maximum 54, but the weather bureau predicted the mercury would mount to 60 during the day.

Elsewhere in Massachusetts early temperatures dropped to 27 at Bedford and Westover, while Westfield reported 29. Other New England points registering sub-freezing levels were Concord, N. H., 24; Burlington, Vt., 25; Portland, Me., 30; Hartford, Ct., 32, while at Lebanon, N. H., a low of 22 was reported.

Lowest temperatures in Boston so far this season were 37, Nov. 2; 37, Sept. 27 and 28; 39, Oct. 24, and 38, Oct. 1.

Auto Hits Police Car; Six Injured

Two State Police officers and four Everett men were injured in a collision on the Newburyport Turnpike at Ipswich, when a Boston-bound auto was in collision with a parked cruising car.

The cruiser, containing Troopers Gustave R. Swanson, 37, of Rockmere ter., Lynn, and Jeremiah A. Barrett, 45, of Division st., Hyde Park, both of the Topsfield barracks, had just stopped to investigate a parked auto when the crash occurred.

The occupants of the auto, pinned in the wreck, were extricated by police and passing motorists. Taken to Salem Hospital were Joseph Cameron, 22, Prescott st.; Stanley H. Powell, 23, Walnut st.; Malcolm Lewis, 21, Liberty st., and Leo Harris, 22, Broadway, all of Everett.

Lovers' Lane Killer Suspects Face Jury

Ralph P. Dupont, 20, Lily st., and Michael F. Coggins, 20, Jewett st., both of Lowell, went on trial in Middlesex Superior Court today for the lovers' lane murder of Mario Grimolizzi, 26, Lowell ex-GI, killed in that city's Centralville section as he defended the honor of pretty Maureen N. Gildea, 17, Third st., Lowell.

A venire of 60 men was called before Judge Pinanski for impaneling of the jury. The defendants have been held without bail in East Cambridge jail since April when they pleaded not guilty. The war veteran was slain before the eyes of his girl companion March 17 as they sat in his car.

At the time of the killing, the girl told police she and Grimolizzi were parked on a hill a short distance from her home when two armed men ordered them into the rear seat and prepared to take over the car. One of the killers, she said, asked how to start the car and the war veteran, on the pretense of helping, leaned over the front seat and smashed the killers' heads together.

In the struggle, two shots were fired and Grimolizzi slumped over. He was repeatedly struck over the head with the gun butts. One killer grabbed her handbag, Miss Gildea said, and then both fled.

British Attache Detained 'Short Time' in Moscow

LONDON, Nov. 3 (AP)—A British foreign office spokesman said today a British military attache in Moscow was "detained for a short time" last Thursday near a factory on the capital's outskirts, but denied a Russian allegation the attache—Maj. Gen. R. Hilton, was photographing the factory.

He added it was "probably true" Hilton was inspecting a skiing slope near the factory.

Jewish Police Sergeant Slain in Jerusalem

JERUSALEM, Nov. 3 (AP)—Two men forced their way into the apartment of a Jewish criminal investigation police sergeant today and shot him dead. The assassins brushed aside the wife of Sgt. Shalom Gurovitz, 45, when she opened the door. Earlier, police announced 15 or 20 armed Jewish youths had stormed a police station in Tel Aviv and released two alleged members of Irgun Zvai Leumi.

2 Held, Quiz Girl In Holdups at Saugus Cabins

Two East Boston men arrested in connection with early morning holdups at overnight cabins in Saugus faced arraignment today in Lynn district court on charges of armed robbery, while a 23-year-old East Boston wife and mother, said by police to have been in the company of one of the accused, was slated to appear as a material witness.

A search was also under way for two other men, reported to have taken part in the robberies at the Happy Valley Cabins on the Newburyport turnpike in Saugus.

Police reported that a navy man was held up, as well as attendants in the cabins office.

Police identified the two men under arrest as Armand Guerrante, 36, of Maverick st., and Joseph Mazzone, Jr., 21, of Paris st., both in East Boston.

Guerrante, who was arrested as he and the young East Boston woman were leaving one of the camps, told police he was a victim, rather than one of the perpetrators of the robberies. Police said he also faces a morals charge.

The arrests grew out of what Police Chief John T. Stuart of Saugus said he believed was a plot to rob all occupants of the Happy Valley camp, but which was foiled by the arrival of a taxi driver who became suspicious and hurried to another camp to telephone police.

The taxi driver, whose name is withheld by police, reported he noticed "strange activities" in the office. He said he hastily backed out and drove to "The Pines" to report his suspicions.

Radio Patrolmen Fred Forni and John Wormstead raced to the scene and reported they were told by James DiCotis, 21, son of the Happy Valley owner, that he and a night attendant had just been robbed of $140 by four men. Three of them had fled in a convertible coupe but DiCotis, pointing to a small panel truck just starting away, told the officers the fourth man was driving the truck.

The two officers seized the driver and his girl companion, said by police to be the East Boston wife. Taken to Saugus police station the couple, according to officials, admitted having occupied one of the cabins since 5 p. m. Saturday.

According to the girl's story and that of Guerrante, three men had called at the cabin, talked with Guerrante and then went away. Some time later, they said, the trio reappeared, held up Guerrante at gunpoint and robbed him.

Boy of 12 Admits Killing Pal, 7; Girl, 17, Implicated in Slaying

CHICAGO, Nov. 3 (AP)—Coroner A. L. Brodie said today that 12-year-old Howard Lang had signed a statement admitting the knife-slaying of 7-year-old Lonnie Felick in a suburban forest preserve. The coroner said the youth's statement related that he stabbed Lonnie during an argument over a theft by Lang of $10 from his widowed mother, Mrs. Alma Lang.

Brodie said, however, the youth had not signed a statement.

The coroner added that "a 17-year-old-girl is implicated and will be a state's witness." He did not identify her or indicate her connection with the case.

Lang, who had been held by police without charge, had been quoted by Police Capt. Daniel Healy yesterday as saying he slashed Lonnie's throat and crushed his head with a large piece of paving concrete.

INVOLVES OTHERS

Later, however, the officer said his conclusions at that time were based on "inference only." He added Lang's admission was only of "using a knife" on Lonnie and then "using a brick."

Until last midnight, Healy added, the youth had not been asked directly if he had stabbed Lonnie and crushed his head with the stone.

Dr. Orlando Scott, psychiatric director of the National Detection of Deception Laboratory of Chicago, said shortly after midnight that during questioning Lang had involved two other persons in the crime.

DETECTOMETER USED

Dr. Scott directed questioning by use of a psycho-detectometer, an electric device which measures brain waves.

Shortly after Lang's arrest, police said Harold Kraft, 11, told them the suspect had boasted to him of cutting Lonnie's throat "because he called my mother a bad name."

Lonnie's partly decomposed body was found in the preserve last Wednesday, 11 days after he had disappeared from his home. His head was crushed. Brodie said that because of the condition of the body it was impossible to determine whether a knife had been used.

Princess' Bridal Ceremony Will Be Broadcast Nov. 20

By INEZ ROBB

LONDON, Nov. 3 (INS)—You, too, can attend the wedding of Princess Elizabeth to Lt. Philip Mountbatten. You, too, can hear her voice as she promises to "love, cherish and obey," and hear his stalwart vows as he promises to keep her in sickness and in health, for richer, for poorer—

Just relax in the most comfortable chair in the living room, snap on the radio Nov. 20 and have yourself a grandstand seat for the most vital, pulsating, historic romance ever to come across the ether!

For the Royal marriage service in Westminster Abbey, hallowed with history and tradition, is to be broadcast. Twenty-one microphones will be used with the entire regal ceremony picked up.

The broadcast will establish a precedent. It is certain to attract the largest international radio audience since a certain December day in 1936 when a king went on the air to renounce the world's greatest throne and empire for love of an American woman.

King George has given permission for the ceremony to be broadcast although he has strictly forbidden that the ceremony within the ancient abbey be either filmed or televised.

Pascal Bridal To Hungarian Star Revealed

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 3—Surprising news from London is that Gabriel Pascal, dynamic, voluble Hungarian producer, has been secretly married to Valerie Hidveghy since Sept. 22.

The bride, one of Europe's most famous beauties, is a Hungarian actress who has appeared on both stage and screen. Pascal has had an amazing career as a producer. Barging into the august presence of George Bernard Shaw one day, he came away with the surprising permission of G. B. S. to produce his plays.

Up to that moment Shaw had refused to let any of his writings be put on the screen. Among the Shaw plays Pascal has produced are "Pygmalion," "Caesar and Cleopatra" and "Major Barbara."

This is Pascal's second marriage. He was formerly married to the present Mrs. Paul Gallico.

The ceremony took place in a small town on the coast of England, and the bride and bridegroom are honeymooning in Rome, where Pascal is making a picture. Later he will go to Dublin to produce another picture there.

Pascal has frequently been in Hollywood and is always full of plans and ideas. While here the last time he sought to persuade Greer Garson to make a picture for him in England.

Cop Lands Man With Flying Tackle

A 160-pound Malden reserve patrolman, a former Malden Catholic High football star, brought his 207-pound quarry down with a flying tackle in a Beach st., Malden, backyard early today and then fought him to a standstill until a brother patrolman came up to help make the arrest.

The quarry was Louis Taglieri, 29, Derby rd., Revere, charged with breaking and entering a Beach st. gasoline station and with possession of burglar's tools. A second man, believed to be an accomplice, escaped.

The tackle was made by George A. McLeod, 26, a Navy veteran, who was aided in the arrest by Patrolman George Mancini. They had stopped their cruiser to investigate a car reported stolen from Fulton Bros., Marblehead, when two men broke away from the gasoline station and ran. A pinch bar used to force the station door was found.

Race Dog Trainer Noses Out Owner

A greyhound trainer nosed out a racing stable owner for a $78.57 litigation-born purse in municipal court today.

The trainer—and plaintiff—was Irving A. Tebo, of Bass st., Gloucester, who testified he threw up his job as trainer for the stable of Charles G. Hall, Main st., Malden veterinarian, because Hall ordered him to sharpen up the greyhounds by tossing them live rabbits in the starting boxes.

Hebo, who sued for back pay, was awarded $332.57 by Judge Juseph E. Donovan. But the jurist also found for Hall, who countered that Tebo had pocketed $254 of the stable's earnings in Florida. Tebo won the difference.

U. S. Offers Saud $52,000 Daily Oil Toll

By WILLIAM P. FLYTHE
Boston American Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3—The United States has entered negotiations with King Ibn Saud to insure him a daily income of at least $52,000 in gold for his oil royalties in Saudi Arabia, it is learned.

The king has asked the American government to intercede and arbitrate his formal demand that payments on his incredibly rich natural resources be made in gold, or its equivalent, instead of silver and paper currency.

His people will not accept paper money—even U. S. bills.

As a result, it was stated in a high official quarter, the whole question of American company concessions in the Near East will be reopened and the U. S. probably will exact an agreement for oil at something like cost instead of at 100 per cent profit.

PAY IN GOLD

King Ibn Saud has informed the State Dept. that early in 1933 he sold oil concession to an American company at a royalty which would average 24 cents a barrel, but which must be paid in English gold sovereigns.

The sovereign then had a value of about $4.88 and was the standard coin of his realm. The king contends that when gold was advanced from $20.67 an ounce to $35, the value of the sovereign advanced to between $6 and $7.

The American government has poured millions into Arabia in lend-lease and direct grants and is now making possible a great pipe line to take the oil across the desert.

DEMAND PRICE CUT

In exchange for this, it was learned, the government will demand new contracts which will guarantee them Near East oil at something nearer 50 cents a barrel than the $1.35 cents it is now forced to pay.

Sen. Brewster (R.) of Maine, Senate War Investigating Committee chairman, said he would introduce cables to prove this government had to force American and British owners of Arabian oil to produce for the war effort. At the time he said the U. S. was supplying 75 per cent of the total and rapidly exhausting its reserves.

7 Dead, Million Loss In Philippine Typhoon

MANILA, Nov. 3 (INS)—Property damage from a typhoon which swept over the central Philippines was estimated at more than a million dollars.

Seven persons—all Filipinos—were drowned in three sea mishaps. At least two small ships were sunk and several others beached by the storm.

Unbeatabe, Soviet Youth Assure Stalin

MOSCOW, Nov. (AP)—The Soviet press published today a letter which it said had been adressed collectively to Prime Minister Stalin by approximately 26,000,000 Soviet Youth League members voicing "full belief in the unbeatable might of our motherland."

"Our youth realize what the boasts about Anglo-American 'democracy' are worth," the letter said. "They see all the poorness and rot of bourgeois culture.

"Our foes—all these Churchills, Dulleses and various agents of Anglo-American imperialism—threaten new war against the Soviet Union and the countries of the new democracy. We cannot be frightened by the atomic bomb. We are not cowards. We have full belief in our strength and in the unbeatable might of the motherland.

"We visualize in Communism the embodiment of youth's sacred, cherished visions and thoughts. We are ready for any test to achieve this great goal."

3 More States Fill Guard Quotas

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3 (INS) Maj. Gen. Kenneth F. Cramer announced that three more states and Puerto Rico have exceeded their entire campaign quotas as enlistments in the National Guard reached a new high during the week ended Oct. 25.

The National Guard bureau chief named the three states as Tennessee, Minnesota and New Mexico, pointing out that Oklahoma, Wyoming and Maine previously had met their quota. He added:

"A total of 46,566 men have been enlisted in the National Guard since the nation-wide recruiting campaign began Sept. 16 at the direction of the president. The strength of the guard as of Oct. 25 was 163,025.

2 Uncontrolled Forest Fires Still Rage in Northern Maine

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 3—Northern Maine was still plagued by forest fires today as two woodland conflagrations burned out of control and the entire parched area remained on the alert against fresh outbreaks.

One current blaze is in the Machias - Whitneyville section, where heavy smoke clouds gave evidence of the big fire still several miles from either community but threatening to advance with favorable winds.

The other fire is in the Seboeis Lake region and is burning on a slope of Mattamiscontis Mt. in an uninhabited area.

While main highways are again open, and most secondary roads are open at the discretion of local authorities, the hunting season is still indefinitely off and firemen and volunteers remain on a standby status until the menace is eventually overcome by heavy rains.

Some 75,000 Sunday motorists viewed the widespread devastation in the area around Biddeford and Kennebunk. It was the first time sightseers have been able to turn out in volume to see the extent of damage.

The fires in the past two weeks have taken 16 lives and destroyed an estimated $30,000,000 worth of property.

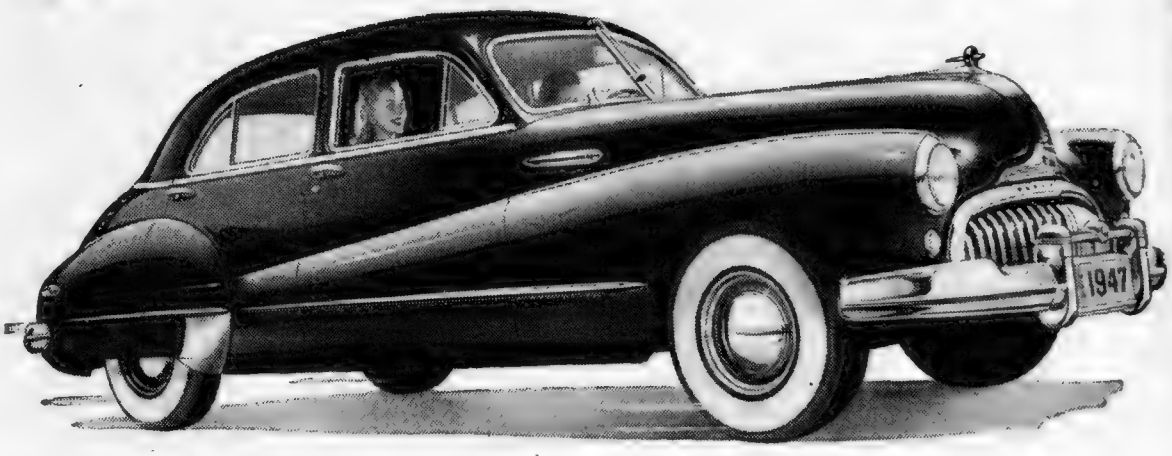
STAR IN ANYONE'S EYES



MAYBE you're a beauty lover with an eye for standout style and the long, sleek, flowing line.

Know anything on the road today that's more the picture of perfect grace — more certainly the forerunner of the coming things in cars?

Or maybe you are strong for action — like the exciting feel of a really able performer, thrilling in its abundance of power, instant and sure in its responses.

Ever sample the wallop in this big Fireball straight-eight — or Buick's swift answer to your wheel hand and your treadle foot?

It could be you like comfort. Broad seats, plenty of room, a soft and gentle ride that asks no favors from the road.

Come see what happens when you get a stout and rugged chassis, easy coil springs on all four wheels, room for three on front seat and back, and low-pressure tires that are like pillows on each wheel.

Or possibly, as a family man, you give more than a thought to the safety of those who ride with you.

You'll find this one starring on that score too — in controls that are firm and sure, bodies that are stout and rugged, even wheel-rims that are extra wide for control in emergencies, stability on curves and a firm, sure grip-on-the-road against sudden stops or skiddy going.

In truth, whatever you put first in an automobile—style, size, room, handling, comfort, controllability — you'll find this one putting stars in your eyes.

A joy to see, a thrill to handle, a dream to drive and ride in, it's America's most wanted car not on one count but on all of them.

Why wait vainly for others to catch up, when an order placed now, with or without a car to trade, makes you certain of getting the latest and choicest thing on the highway?

Evicted Family Of 11 Housed In Fire Station

Evicted from their home in Highland ave., Malden, Charles Fell, his wife and their nine children were comfortably housed today in the abandoned fire station in Malden, with rent, heat and light free, thanks to Mayor John D. McCarthy.

Hearing of the family's eviction, the mayor placed the old firehouse at their disposal temporarily. The quarters are complete with large kitchen, five rooms and a large playroom on the first floor of the two-story structure.

The new tenants, however, will not long have the place to themselves. Within a few days William Larkin, his wife and three children, former residents of Malden who were burned out in the Brownfield, Me., forest first last week, will move in with the Fells.

Children of the Fells, including Joan, June, Charles, Michael, Robert, John, Joseph, Carol and Martha, ranging in age from 3 to 18 are enthused over their new home.

THE BOSTON HERALD
Editorial Fri., Oct. 3

"The voters of Boston will be presented with an unusual opportunity on Tuesday. There is available an exceedingly strong man of the quality needed for the School Committee in the candidacy of Isadore H. Y. Muchnick, who has for a number of years served most usefully on the City Council. We urge our readers to avail themselves of the opportunity to strengthen the wobbly personnel of the School Committee by voting for Mr. Muchnick".

EDITORIAL
Wed., Oct. 29

The Boston Post

"Isadore H. Y. Muchnick has been an outstanding member of the City Council for the past several years. During his service in that body he has demonstrated not only real ability but a high degree of character and integrity. His actions have shown him to be an honorable man. He has a fine educational background. He completed the difficult six-year course at the Boston Latin School in five years. He graduated with honors from Harvard College. He was one of the leading members of his class at the Harvard Law School. A practising attorney for the past 15 years, he holds the respect of the judiciary and the members of his profession. He is the father of two children. It appears to the Post that he possesses the necessary qualifications to make an excellent School Committee member."

Boston Traveler EDITORIAL, Fri., Oct. 31

"Voters of Boston must choose carefully among candidates for the Boston School Committee next Tuesday. The education of youth is nothing to trifle with. Casual balloting for whatever names happen to head the list would be dangerous indeed when one realizes that our school system is one of the chief training places for democracy and good citizenship. The Traveler, after due deliberation, endorses Isadore H. Y. Muchnick, an honest, competent member of the City Council."

NOW BOSTON ACCLAIMS AMAZING NEW LYONS TOOTH PASTE

THE NEW KIND OF TOOTHPASTE THAT GETS TEETH 2½ TO 5½ TIMES BRIGHTER THAN ANY OTHER TOOTHPASTE!

Unmatched new Lyons Toothpaste does what no other toothpaste can do... thanks to its completely new, radically different formula!

The whole town's singing the praises of new Lyons Toothpaste. And here's why! It's not just another toothpaste . . . but is completely new and radically different in formula.

Because of this, new Lyons Toothpaste does what no other toothpaste can do. And this has been proved—proved beyond all question—by thousands of our own exhaustive tests which show that while cleaning teeth it actually gets them brighter —2½ to 5½ times brighter— than any other toothpaste.

Yes—and that's why we say, without fear of challenge, that new revolutionary Lyons Toothpaste is better—far and away better— than any toothpaste on the market for brightening teeth.

Remember—new Lyons Toothpaste not only cleans beautifully and polishes brilliantly, but unbelievable as it may seem, this new kind of toothpaste cleans without soap—polishes without chalk.

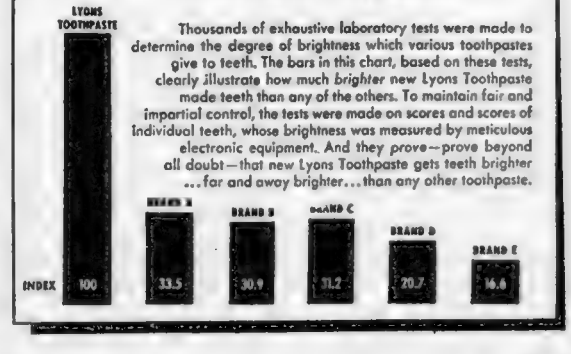
For a smile that shines with new brightness, get new Lyons Toothpaste today. You can buy it at all drug and toilet goods counters.

HERE'S PROOF



Thousands of exhaustive laboratory tests were made to determine the degree of brightness which various toothpastes give to teeth. The bars in this chart, based on these tests, clearly illustrate how much brighter new Lyons Toothpaste made teeth than any of the others. To maintain fair and impartial control, the tests were made on scores and scores of individual teeth, whose brightness was measured by meticulous electronic equipment. And they prove—prove beyond all doubt—that new Lyons Toothpaste gets teeth brighter ...far and away brighter... than any other toothpaste.

Almost beyond belief! Cleans without soap! Polishes without chalk!

Coming to Straubing from Munich last week in one of these hired jalopies, my driver was an Italian DP by the name of Mario De Natali, from Naples—a sociable cuss with a tooth-paste smile and a resonant baritone, who roared operatic arias while spinning over the narrow, tree-lined roads at 60 MPH. Mario loved the sharp kiss of October's air on his cheek and the rolling panorama of villages and hills—a high velocity vagabond whose only needs were a pack of cigarets, three meals a day and a place to flop. Did he want to go back to Naples? No, per Bacco! then he "would no longer be a displaced person." He is content!

He spoke a jargon of English, French and German, mixed with Italian expletives and he had a Nazi SS general's manner of asking wayside Germans for road directions, whoaing his jeep in a screech of brakes opposite some passing farmer and bawling:

"AIIEE! DU! Ist diese nach Straubing?"

It was a stern command rather than a question. Then Mario would grin in merry mischief and wink, adding:

"Schweinhund! Verdammt dummmkoff! Sale vache! (Filthy dog! Damned blockhead! Dirty cow!) Bums!"

He is one of the happiest men I have met in Germany—happy until I slowed him down to 45 m.p.h. "But, signor!" he said. "we moost get dere." I said, "Yeh! But in one piece," soliloquizing that dead correspondents don't write any stories. "Ah! Si, si, si!" agreed Mario amiably, throttling down. But in two minutes he was up to sixty again. Mario was not a man to be licked by calamity. He rolls with life's punches. I tipped him a package of gaspers and he barreled off, howling, Ceri Beri Bin!" Lucky Mario!

Among the few others who are contented with their lot in Occupation life is a young colored boy, Walter Scott of Brooklyn, whose ivory smile never deserted his features as we endured a rough spinal massage today on the way to Schweinfurt. It was bitter cold and the rain stung our faces with the force of BB shot, but Walter just wore his summer uniform.

"You ought to have a coat," I suggested. "No, this's my kinda weather," he said. "Like it over here?" I asked.

"Yes," he said, sincerely. "I'm makin' more money than I can in Brooklyn. I eat, have a place to sleep, get my clothes free and $96 a month." His problems of personal economy are answered.

100 P. C. EFFECTIVE

In theory, if not in practice, 10 per cent of occupation soldiery are colored troops. Today, as I entered the old Palace of Justice in Nuernberg, where the Nazi war criminal trials continue interminably to the point of exhaustion, the guards were colored.

Recently during a field inspection of the Constabulary a detachment of Negro infantry laid out their equipment ust behind the white squadron. I asked the colored captain (from Washington, D. C.) what the strength of his unit was, and he answered crisply, "Hundred and ninety-seven men, suh." "How many are effective?" (Ed—ready for duty.) He snapped, "Hundred and ninety-seven, suh." No malingerers there!

No question about it. Our occupation force is making a display of poverty which Germans find hard to reconcile with our reputation as the world's richest, most benevolent, altruistic nation. In Europe we are regarded as a "soft touch"—rich old uncle. Yet here we have supply shortages of almost everything from envelopes to trucks. The only things provided in plenty are P-X store items—largely foreign made — German china, Swiss watches, Czech jewelry, Bavarian embroideries.

I have sat in a regimental colonel's office many times while he pleaded, cajoled, threatened and begged for some essential material, like an electric light unit or a gas pump. "But we've already waited three months," the colonel will storm. Somewhere on the other end of the line an harrassed quartermaster is explaining, "But we haven't any. They don't exist." So the army, from the colonels down to the buck privates, "improvise," which means getting it done by hook or otherwise—usually by paying the Germans with our black market materials—cigarets, lard, coffee, sugar, flour, etc., of which, for some reason, there seem to be ample stocks.

"And the hell of it is," grunted one C. O., we just get a post cleaned up, painted equipped and running half decently, when the order comes to move to some dilapidated, stinking, fouled-up caserne and we have to start building and scrubbing all over again. Some regimentals and squadrons have been moved five times in a year. Why? Oh, the inscrutable wisdom of some brassbound diety whose only function is nodding like Jove on Mt. Olympus and waking up occasionally to throw a thunderbolt."

ATTITUDE OF GERMANS

Soldiers by nature are confirmed "gripers." But career colonels are not. Yet in the swing around, the outer rim of this Occupation (nine-tenths of my tour is with the ground forces which enforce the Occupation), I have heard more growls and cusses from high rankers than I heard during the entire war. No wonder the Germans call this the "paper war" and our force the "paper army."

There's a notable difference in the attitude of Germans in the streets of Nuernberg since my previous visits to this bomb-riddled city. The first was while the city was still smoking in late April of 1945. Then they were abject, humble and apprehensive. The next time was 18 months ago. They were surly, austere and eyed the American uniform resentfully. But now they look at you with a derisive half sneer. By dispensation of the Military Government they are "democrats" now and quick to exploit their "rights" with passive contempt. I don't imagine this! It's obvious! What will the German attitude be a year hence?

"Well," said an executive officer at the Palace of Justice, whom I'd known in the war days, "we've spent two years trying and convicting Nazi politicians for war crimes. Some we've hanged, some jailed for 10 to 30 years. I'll guarantee that in four or five years they'll all be freed—the new German government. That's prediction."

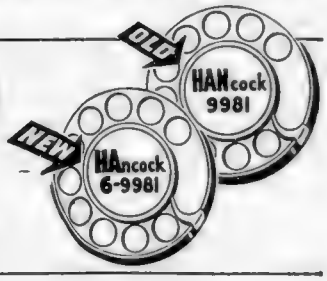
New Telephone NUMBERING PLAN

for Metropolitan Boston

A FIGURE WILL BE ADDED TO EVERY CENTRAL OFFICE NAME



In dialing, you will substitute the new figure for the third letter of the central office name. You will make the same number of dial turns that you do now.

When giving a number to an operator, you will add the new figure to the central office name.

Thus, for HAncock 6-9981, you will dial HA6 9981; you will say "Hancock Six—Nine, Nine, Eight, One."

It's as easy as that!

The new plan is only slightly different from the present one. It will go into effect gradually, each customer changing over on the day he receives his new directory.

There will be no change in most of our central office names. The only exceptions are:

ARN old will become JA maica 4
RUG gles will become HI ghlands 2
PER kins will become WA tertown 3

The plan makes possible a much greater flexibility in the naming of the many central offices which Boston now requires. It also paves the way for operator dialing of Long Distance calls — an improvement due here within the next few years.

Remember— under the new numbering plan you dial two letters and a figure and then the four figures of the telephone number (plus the final letter when there is one). When giving a number to the operator, you just add a figure to the central office name. You should also do this when telling anyone your own number or giving it to the operator for any other purpose, such as making a long distance call.

Light Plane Salvaged After Priests Crash

FRAMINGHAM, Nov. 3—Repair men today salvaged a light sport plane which crashed on the athletic field behind the Marist Seminary during a training flight by two young priests preparing for parishes in the South Pacific where they will have to fly to outlying missions.

Rev. Paul Sicard, 31, and Rev. Chanel Violette, 32, curates at Immaculate Conception Church in Westerly, R. I, escaped with facial cuts when the plane struck treetops 20 feet above the ground. Fr. Sicard was at the controls.

"Are you going to listen to your fiancee or to HER?!"

NOISY WELCOME

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3 (AP)—William Cooper "celebrated" the birth of his second child with a bang that literally shook the foundations of his home.

He had just lighted a hot water heater in the basement when he got a hurry-up call from Jefferson Hospital. At 12:30 a. m. his wife gave birth to a boy.

Three hours later, Cooper's neighbors were startled out of their sleep by an explosion.

Cooper, in his excitement, had forgotten to turn off the water heater—and said the pressure built up until it exploded.

11 Battle Dead On Home Trek

We're tobacco men... not medicine men...

OLD GOLDS are made for enjoyment!

Frankly, we're bewildered as you are by all the hoop-la about laboratories, tests, and medical claims. We agree: a cigarette is supposed to give you pleasure. Period.

And your pleasure is the sole aim of the advanced scientific techniques we use in the making of OLD GOLDS . . . the best, deepest, richest smoking pleasure you've ever found in a cigarette!

If that's what you're after . . . if top-quality tobaccos at the peak of flavor are your idea of a perfect cigarette . . . then OLD GOLDS are your answer. Try 'em—for pleasure's sake!

For a TREAT instead of a TREATMENT ...try an Old Gold

South Korean Army Trained, Waits Weapons to Meet Reds

By RAY RICHARDS

SEOUL, Nov. 3—Three Japanese-trained Korean generals, who eventually commanded Korean troops against Japan in China during World War II, today revealed exclusively to the Hearst newspapers they have been quietly training an army of 500,000 South Koreans, without weapons, since the spring of 1946, for the purpose of some day withstanding a puppet invasion from North Korea.

The generals declared 300,000 members of this defense army are now sufficiently advanced in combat tactics to require not more than six weeks' instruction in weapons before they are able to take the field effectively.

The trainees are members of Korean young men's organizations, peace constabulary and national police. They include altogether virtually every able-bodied South Korean male under 35 years of age, plus 30,000 veterans of the China war.

Thus, without American aid or sponsorship, the anti-Communistic South Koreans themselves have established the foundation for a strong military force.

They now look for arms from the U. S. for this force in event the present complicated political and diplomatic situation, and developments in the United Nations, result in withdrawal of the Russo-American occupation troops.

Men Who Get Up Nights Often Lose Their Pep

If you have to get up 2 or more times a night, your rest is broken and you may feel old and run-down before your time. So if you Get Up Nights or suffer from Bladder Weakness, Painful Passages, Backache, Leg Pains, Nervousness, Rheumatic Pains, Circles Under Eyes, or Swollen Ankles, due to non-organic and non-systemic kidney and Bladder Troubles, you should try Cystex.

This great medicine, a doctor's formula, has helped thousands of sufferers for over 30 years. Usually the very first dose of Cystex starts to work immediately to help you in these three ways: 1. Helps nature remove irritating excess acids, poisonous wastes and certain germs. 2. This cleansing action helps nature alleviate many pains, aches, soreness and stiffness. 3. Helps reduce frequent night and day calls, thus promoting better sleep.

Get Cystex from your druggist today. Give it a fair trial as directed on package. Money back guaranteed unless Cystex satisfies you.

ASTHMA MUCUS Coughs Quickly Curbed For Thousands of Sufferers

If you have tried a lot of things and still cough, wheeze and can't sleep or breathe well, because of recurring attacks of Bronchial Asthma, you can't know what happiness and satisfaction may be yours until you try the doctor's formula called Mendaco. Not a smoke, injection or spray, but an internal medicine which works through the blood, thus reaching the lungs and bronchial tubes. A Chicago physician reports that it helped over ninety percent of a large group of his patients and over 5,000 doctors have requested physician's supplies. Get Mendaco from your druggist today, take exactly as directed. See how quickly it may help loosen and remove thick stranging mucus, thus alleviating coughing of Bronchial Asthma, and promoting freer breathing and better sleep. Money back guaranteed unless Mendaco satisfies you.

Students in 40 Hub Schools Prepare for History Contest

Aware of the patriotic importance of their subject, thousands of public and parochial high school pupils in more than 40 schools in Boston were preparing today to compete in the fifth annual American History Awards, conducted by Hearst papers in 12 other key cities in the country, the local examination to be held here Nov. 25.

The history examinations will include 20 questions on American history in the period between 1781 and 1825, including the Constitution of the United States. Total local prizes will be $1000 in U. S. savings bonds, and Boston winners will be eligible to compete in the national awards for prizes totaling $25,000.

Each contestant will also be required to write an essay of not more than 250 words on some important historical subject, to be announced later.

The Boston examinations, sponsored by the Hearst Sunday Boston Record and Sunday Advertiser, will be held in the respective public and parochial schools on Nov. 25, and the top three papers at each school will be submitted to a history awards committee for final rating, and for selection of Boston winners.

Local prizes in Boston will be: first, $200; second, $100; third, $75; fourth, fifth and sixth, $50; seventh through 25th, $25, all in savings bonds. Winners of first, second and third prizes will be eligible for the national contest as Boston's representatives.

On Dec. 10 they will take a second examination, this time for national honors, in historic Faneuil Hall. In 12 other cities throughout the country, other top winners will also take a national examination, in places of local historic importance.

PUBLICLY ENDORSED

The annual American History Awards have the unqualified endorsement of Dr. Arthur L. Gould, superintendent of Boston's public schools, and of Rev. Cornelius T. H. Sherlock, superintendent of parochial schools in the Boston archdiocese.

Also endorsing the awards is Daniel J. McDevitt, chairman of the Boston School Committee, who stated:

"I hope all history students in the Boston high schools will participate in this patriotic contest. Our high school students are the future citizens of America and there is no better preparation for that citizenship than a knowledge of the history of their country."

TWEET, HIC, TWEET

HARTFORD, Ct., Nov. 3 (AP)—When it comes to drinking the "hard stuff," says Mrs. Catherine Grasso, a judge at Connecticut's first canary show, canaries have a lot more sense than human beings.

"A drop of whisky or a bit of gin is the best thing in the world for a canary when it is down in its warbles," said Mrs. Grasso, "but the cure never makes them drunk.

"Man," she added, "are in the habit of taking the cure before they're sick."

Insulting America Is Socialist Pastime

THE DEBATE in the British House of Commons over Winston Churchill's fourth futile attempt to bring down the Labor government on a no-confidence vote was featured by irrelevant but acrimonious criticism and ridicule of the United States.

Mr. Churchill, in fact, who had no illusions about the ultimate outcome of the voting but nevertheless came remarkably close to success, devoted a considerable part of his speaking time to a rebuke of the Socialist detractors of America.

He was particularly incensed by the digression from the real issue of the debate by Laborite Sidney Silverman, who branded the government and people of the United States as "SHABBY MONEY LENDERS."

Mr. Silverman, indeed, provoked nearly the entire House of Commons into cries of "shame" and "withdraw" when he insinuated that America holds the threat of atomic warfare over the rest of the world.

"America is riding for the biggest and most sensational economic disaster in all history," said Mr. Silverman.

"I hope to God when it comes they will not start throwing their atomic bombs about the world."

With respect to the great depression which he professes to see imminently in the offing for the United States, Mr. Silverman said:

"I hope at any rate that this country (Great Britain) is not going to be dragged at the heels of it and I hope it will be able to insulate itself from it."

FOR A COUNTRY which has been "dragged at the heels" into two great wars and at least one great depression by the previous involvement of Great Britain, the United States must regard this appraisal of its past policies and its probable future actions with amazement and some bewilderment.

It would be an entirely new world experience, certainly, for the United States to START an aggressive war.

Insofar as being a "shabby money lender" is concerned, the United States might reasonably expect Britain to remember the repudiated billions of its World War I loans and the additional billions of World War II loans FOR WHICH THERE IS NO PROSPECT OF REPAYMENT.

On its record, the United States is a remarkably inoffensive member of the family of nations in the matter of war.

IT IS A FAVORITE pastime and basic tactic of British Socialists—derived from the Communist pattern which shapes and directs their political and economic philosophy—to deride and disparage the United States.

Mr. Churchill undoubtedly speaks for a vast majority of the people of Great Britain and for a considerable part of the House of Commons when he rebukes his Socialist opponents for their derision and disparagement of America.

But his Socialist opponents neither profess to speak for nor care very much for the true opinion or proper interests of Britain in the matter of Anglo-American relationships.

They speak for and concern themselves solely for the RED FASCIST EMPIRE OF SOVIET RUSSIA, of which they are willing and servile puppets.

BE SURE TO VOTE

EVERY CITIZEN qualified to vote in tomorrow's municipal elections should exercise this paramount duty of good Americanism. It is a contribution to honorable and decent government that he cannot conscientiously neglect.

It is, in fact, his only protection against the machines, the minorities and the underworld of politics.

Inquire into the backgrounds and records of the candidates; examine their affiliations and inclinations; weed out the stooges, the undesirables, the purveyors of alien doctrines; find out who best represents the American way of life.

Then vote early, wisely and confidently.

Silence is the true love-token
Passion only speaks in sighs;
Would you keep its charm unbroken,
Trust the eloquence of eyes.
Ah so!
Not so.
From my soul all doubts remove
Tell me, tell me, that you love.
GEORGE CROLY.

NOW I AM being pointed out at theaters during intermissions. It appears I have become a celebrity in a small way. That's not bad. But it has its drawbacks, as witness the following communication from a young woman of Manhattan: "You were pointed out to me the other night during intermission of 'The Heiress.' Your back was turned. The rear view was excellent; like that of a football player. Then you turned around. You are developing a corporation, a bulge in the middle. It is in its first stages, to be sure, but I beg of you to turn your back on pie a la mode, mashed potatoes and gravy; even to cut down on your beloved breakfast, before it is too late. Think, Eddie, think deeply, how are you going to look in a bathing suit?" (NOTE—A fine thing! Not only do I have to write seven columns a week but to satisfy the feminine clients I have to look like Gregory Peck. Maybe my mother was right. I should have kept my job with the Pennsylvania Railroad.)

BARREN ISLAND: "The Joe Louis-Jersey Joe Wolcott fight belongs on Barren Island, not Madison Sq. Garden." Such is the statement made by my frank and fearless young friend, sportscribe Dan (Throckmorton) Parker. It inspired a Chicagoan to ask me: "What and where is Barren Island?" Barren Island, outside of New York harbor, was once a city garbage dump. The odor of this island offended the nostrils of citizens for miles around.

ASKING: Queries from clients. Q—When was James Thornton's ballad, "When You Were Sweet Sixteen," first introduced? I claim 1916. A—Can't say definitely. I think you are about eleven years out of the way. Around 1905 I would say. Q—At what height do your horses & women experts consider a woman can be rightly called "a tall woman?" A—Our H&W experts do not consider a woman tall unless at least five feet, nine inches in height in her stocking feet. Q—What is the best way to handle an Aries man? A—Please be more specific. What have you in mind? Is the gentleman a bachelor or the man with whom you are involved in matrimony? Generally speaking, Aries (Mar. 21-April 20) men are the type of which women say, "He seems at times like a great big man and at other times just like a little boy." The Aries males fall heavily for the maternal in women. Or so say the stargazers.

NOW HE KNOWS: Have found out what slivowitz is. It is a brandy made of plums, popular in Romania and Czechoslovakia. I have been presented with a bottle by a kindly subscriber, who says: "Try drinking slivowitz so you will be able to discuss it intelligently with your readers. Be careful, though. It is very potent. Ninety proof." I haven't tried it yet. But if my neighbors hear me loudly singing, "Ring the Bells of Old South College," and "Are You There, Moriarity?" some night soon I hope they will take a liberal and tolerant view of the situation. My exuberance will not be the result of a carouse but merely of journalistic research in the interests of our subscribers.

HORSES & WOMEN. A husband never likes a hat his wife buys until he gets used to it. After his wife has worn it for several weeks he begins to praise the chapeau. That's what a Manhattan hat expert claims. May be something to it. Feminine style is an extremely peculiar thing. Take those long skirts. At first the women wearing them looked funny. Now women wearing long skirts appear smart, snappy and stylish and those wearing short skirts look the reverse.

DRUNKOMETER: In Detroit autoists, charged with being inebriated, are subjected to a test by a gadget called the "drunkometer." This has been in use for two and a half years. Is reported infallible. Perhaps there should be a popular-priced "drunkometer" on the market. These could be installed at roadhouse parking stations and in the homes of cocktail party enthusiasts. All guests at the roadhouses or cocktail parties could be subjected to a "drunkometer" test before being permitted to drive their automobiles home. This is really a brilliant idea even if it isn't practical.

ALWAYS OPEN: Chicago has a beauty shop open 24 hours a day, seven days a week. The beauty shop business is reported unusually good in the Windy City. I guess the girls there have to keep their schoolgirl complexions and figures to show their appreciation for those wonderful Chicago husbands.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1947, by King Features Syndicate

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3—Some of our courts have built up a rule which protects in their treachery those actual enemies of the United States who are Communists but deny that they are.

Westbrook Pegler

It is ironical that patriotic judges should shield men whom they surely regard as anti-American conspirators when they could rule the other way. Nevertheless, some of them do.

The theory is roughly this:

Communists and fellow-travelers are objects of loathing, and actual Communists may be excluded from some public positions. Therefore, any person who calls another a Communist, a fellow-traveler or even, in some jurisdictions, a Red, may be called upon to prove it and to pay damages if he can't.

There is a thin theory here that the Government might refuse to employ some innocent individual merely because someone else said he was a Communist.

Actually, anyone so excluded would be rejected not because of anything that anyone else had said but because the Government had its own reliable information.

THE QUESTION has not reached the Supreme Court. If the court were consistent, the patriotic American citizen might feel confident that, in due time, the justices would stick to reasoning already expressed and throw the Muscovites downstairs.

There are previous decisions which seem to promise that the patriot will be made free to call a man a Communist who plainly is and deliberately taunts good citizens to say that he is.

In one case, Justice Frankfurter wrote that it was harmless repartee to say that a man was a Fascist, with malicious intent to damage his reputation and destroy his business when there was absolutely no ground for the charge.

Here, a racket union had tried to compel a pair of industrious Graeco-Americans, who had a little restaurant, to hire union members to do work which they did themselves.

The union picketed the place with false statements that any customer who patronized it was guilty of promoting Fascism.

That does seem so silly that you might justify the court's decision that the remarks were just juvenile bickering.

But when you reflect that a teamster or a tailor might be blackballed from coast to coast for crossing a picket line and patronizing Fascists, you think again.

This union intended these slogans to hurt. It did not follow that they were harmless just because nobody really believed them.

In many other cases, the boss vermin of the union racket have placarded premises with lies which the public knew to be lies.

And when 100,000 customers quit in fear of punishment as scabs, the preposterous hurts as much as the truth.

Still the Supreme Court called these little white lies.

RECENTLY, WHEN the Thomas Committee on Un-American Activities took testimony in Hollywood, the general public heard for the first time who the culprits were who have been needling propaganda into the films and blackballing from the business many a good American.

Incidentally, I hope some way may be found to make some amends to Patterson McNutt, a first-class movie writer who fought in France in the first war and was driven out of Hollywood two years ago, sick and beaten after a long, lone siege.

Like the stiletto, this treacherous European weapon strikes unseen and makes no sound. McNutt had fought the reptilian sneaks of the Guilds, and he was whispered out at the top of his ability while the ingrate refugees rode in chaises.

The hearing of the Thomas Committee gave the papers and the radio their first free opportunity to print names. It was the first time they had been mentioned in sworn testimony.

Even when a citizen in formal public debate unguardedly calls his opponent a Red, he may be financially crippled or destroyed by the American courts.

The lawyers for the Communists are well paid. The money comes from rich contributors in Hollywood and New York and from arbitrary assessments for "defense funds" levied by Communist unions.

Invariably, the Communists demand enormous judgments. And, almost invariably, they are mischief-makers who would not lose face in the circle of their friends because their friends are all the same.

Their risk of financial loss and their professional handicap in private employ or government service is theoretical and a verdict of six cents would be fair in any case.

In McNutt's case, the damage was not imaginary. They ruined him.

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 3 (INS)—Hollywood must really do something about the collection of old motion pictures in the Library of Congress. Since the appropriation to keep these films up has been dropped, it would seem that the logical place for the library would be the Academy of Arts and Sciences.

It would cost something like $35,000 a year to maintain the library, and, of course, additional money to move the films here. The collection is extremely valuable. There are three films from the Spanish-American war. There are also McKinley's assassination, King Edward's funeral, Queen Victoria's "Jubilee" and the first motion picture ever made.

In order to copyright the old films, they had to be transferred to paper. They can be transferred back to film, which has been done successfully a few times. If the library is not kept up, the history of the motion picture stops. Why not rent a theater and show some of the films, really collectors' items, as one way to raise money?

SURPRISING NEWS that Robert Donat will marry Rene Asherson, British actress. You may remember her as the queen in "Henry V," Laurence Olivier's picture. The surprise is because Donat was reported ill with asthma in a sanatorium.

Rene Asherson

Robert Siodmak says, far from being ill, Donat is on the stage in London and receiving great applause. Siodmak told me he hasn't given up the idea of "Precious Bane," the picture that took him to London and which he never made. Donat was supposed to have done it but backed out because he thought the woman's part more important.

Siodmak wants Jean Simmonds, the girl who looks like Vivien Leigh, for the femme star.

THIS IS STRICTLY on the Q.T.—But the hottest undercover bidding going on in Hollywood is for "Out of the Night," Jan Valtin's sensational expose of Communistic activities in this country, that sold over 1,700,000 copies several years ago.

Do I need to explain why? With last week's Washington investigation of un-American activities in the limelight, there's a mad scramble for anti-Communist themes.

Valtin's book is the best bet because it is the best known. Once before the story was up for screening, then Russia became our ally and it was thought best to soft-pedal it.

Now, we are soft-pedaling nothing!

LOU COSTELLO, you'll be glad to hear, is almost recovered from his attack of rheumatic fever and will be able to return to work in "The Noose Hangs High" on Nov. 10 at Eagle-Lion.

Costello and his partner, Bud Abbott, have signed Cathy Downs on a long term contract. She is the first of the young talent they plan to exploit. They will search for talented newcomers, later loaning them to other companies.

Lou and Bud have spent $400,000 of their own money for their Youth Foundation, with very little outside help, and the returns from "The Noose Hangs High" will all go to their foundation.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: If Hedy Lamarr wants back her first husband, Fritz Mandl, she can have him. I had heard that Mandl, former munitions king, called Hedy from South America asking her to join him there. When I asked if it were true, she admitted she had heard from him.

"But there's not a chance of my going back to him—or of leaving this country. I want to become an American citizen as soon as possible as this is my home and I love it."

Even though she wants no part of him, it's flattering to any woman that a man can't forget.

Marilyn Nash telephoned to say she had asked for her release from Charles Chaplin because she had a new and big job coming up. She says Chaplin has leased his studio for a year and so there seems no chance of his making pictures for some time.

Well, that certainly is news. He leased it to William Wilder, brother of Billy, but I didn't know about this other commitment. Wonder if that means Chaplin will do his picture-making, if any, away from here? It's reported an independent concern is the lessee.

If Vincent Price wants to turn a good deal and at the same time make it possible for Lt. Philip Mountbatten to receive a wedding gift he will cherish—the opportunity is here.

Price owns a ring that once belonged to Prince Albert, consort of Queen Victoria. Now a London jewelry firm, Hyde, Ltd., is seeking to buy the ring for a client who wants to give it to Elizabeth's bridegroom-to-be as a wedding present. It has Albert's name inscribed, and is valued at $10,000.

The only hitch is that Vincent hasn't yet made up his mind whether or not he wants to part with the valuable piece of jewelry.

ALFRED DUFF-COOPER, one of the leaders of England's Conservative party and formerly a member of the British Cabinet, arrives in Hollywood at the end of December. Duff-Cooper will be accompanied by his wife, the former Lady Diana Manners, who has been called one of England's most glamorous women. She created the role of the Nun in Max Reinhardt's play, "The Miracle."

While here, Duff-Cooper will attempt to sell some of his plays to the movies. Although he has a large amount of money tied up in England, like all wealthy Englishmen he is momentarily hard-pressed for cash. Someone said he might even consider a movie job, but that I doubt.

When last the Duff-Coopers were here, the Jack Warners gave a dinner for them where they met all the elite of filmland.

From New York comes word that all in one evening, Lana Turner, Marlene Dietrich and Jane Russell were at a performance of "The Medium," and not one accompanied by a gent.

Arline Judge's separation from Bob Topping makes her practically the most married and separated girl in America. He was her fifth husband.

The Robert Cobbs were there with Ruth Warrick and Phil Reed, and the prettiest blonde in the room was Marie Johnson, with George Jessel. David Selznick and his party arrived after the show was over, and they missed a good one. Nan Wynn, who puts over songs in a cafe with such grace, was called back again and again, and I want to hear again Phil Ohman and Margaret Hart playing two pianos. They are wonderful.

My Boston

By Alan Frazer

INFLATION HAS BEEN FELT in the price of beef, eggs, bread, milk and what not. Now it enters the field of murder . . . The price of murder is up, and as usual the people have to pay . . . The state has been paying $500 to lawyers appointed by the courts to defend accused slayers who could not hire their own attorneys. The other day, quietly and without fanfare, the judges of Superior Court met and decided that, because of the high cost of living, the fee hereafter shall be $1000 . . . This is the first announcement . . . Atty. Gen. Barnes has been asked to help in an investigation of the sale in Fall River of mill property seized for nonpayment of taxes. A $1,500,000 plant is said to have gone for $5000. Look for appointment of a special grand jury . . . But one very wealthy man, who has talked to Barnes' assistants at the State House, says he will "clam up" if called before a grand jury.

THE WARD EIGHT, Boston's most famous drink, was invented Nov. 7, 1898, by Bartender Tom Hussion, at Locke-Ober's in Winter pl., Boston's most famous eating place . . . The occasion was an impromptu gathering at the bar (made of solid mahogany from San Domingo) of some of the members of the Hendricks Club, nucleus of the political power of Martin Lomasney, mahatma of the West End (then Ward 8) . . . Martin was up for election to the Legislature the next day, so they wanted to drink to his luck. Knowing Martin, they figured it should be something special . . . Tom Hussion was equal to that or any other occasion. He had only recently moved over from the old Revere House in Bowdoin sq., where no less a personage than the Prince of Wales, later Edward VII, had been wined . . . Tom started in the direction of a whisky-sour, dropping in whisky, lemon and powdered sugar. Then his vision soared and instead of seltzer he threw in beautiful pink grenadine . . . The Ward Eight was born for wine lists and literature.

SPEAKING of Locke-Ober's, contrary to what our old friend Lucius Beebe wrote in his "Boston and the Boston Legend," Louis Ober and Frank Locke never were partners, always were business rivals . . . Wood & Pollard, the liquor wholesalers, bought them out and knocked down the wall between their establishments . . . A later owner, Emil Camus, adopted the present name, hyphenating the rivals for posterity . . . The old flavor, the traditions, survived all changes. Executives of Jordan Marsh still are entitled to a reserved table because Eben Jordan financed Louis Ober 72 years ago. The baked clams casino, clear green turtle soup au sherry, sweetbreads (under glass) Eugenie still inspire Boston businessmen and Harvard youngbloods.

ALL-A-TREMBLE, Ridge Bond, handsome young star of "Oklahoma!" stood up the other day at the Touraine Surrey Room party, when asked to read a telegram just received by the management . . . Few there knew that Ridge has been sweating-out the expected birth of his first child. The let-down was terrific when he found it was only a good-will message from Gov. Roy Turner of Oklahoma, his home state . . . "Golly, I thought it was the baby, and I don't care whether it's a boy or a girl, if it would only be born," said Ridge . . . "Sonny" McDonough, only Democrat in the Governor's Council, raised an objection at the last meeting of that body, over the salary of Jim Healey, Gov. Bradford's energetic new press secretary. He wanted it cut in half . . . Said "Sonny"; "That guy is too fast for Beacon Hill. Since he got here, the Republicans have got more publicity than ever before. If we cut him in half, it might slow him to half-speed so the Democrats would have a chance to come back."

SENATOR OWEN BREWSTER's remark that the Communists might be to blame for the Maine fires can be taken with a grain of salt. However, government investigating agencies have long listed forest fires as one of the Communist weapons . . . Fire is a great disorganizer, destroying business, putting people out of work, creating fear . . . During the war, especially in the earliest days when nobody knew what to expect from Communists, the forests actually were watched for signs of Communist activity . . . Later, nobody could do much about Communists . . . In the spring of 1942, President Roosevelt received a visit at the White House from Molotov. A few days later Roosevelt called in Navy Secretary Frank Knox and instructed him that thereafter no person was to be discharged from any naval establishment on the ground of being a Communist . . . Definite subversive activity would have to be shown, and membership in the Communist Party was not to be considered subversive activity . . . It is presumed the same order was given the Army. It changed the whole policy of dealing with Communists . . . That is previously-unwritten history.

THE PRINTING press on which Ben Franklin served his apprenticeship is among four million articles shown at the Boston Antiques Exposition at Mechanics Building this week . . . Edward A. Crane, Cambridge council candidate, enlisted in the Army in spite of a withered arm and donated the remainder of his council salary at that time to public improvements. The fund with interest now amounts to $3400 . . . Kathleen Ryan, Boston School Committee aspirant, says a school board without a woman is "like a ship without a rudder" . . . Save your Social Security deduction slips. And if you want to know how much you or your widow will receive, get the excellent new booklet on Social Security at 120 Boylston st. . . . Filene's had 15 trucks and drivers on Red Cross disaster service in Maine . . . There is really (in New Orleans) a streetcar named "Desire."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3—Sir Wilmott Lewis, of the London Times, who is somewhat more British, Old Top, than leg before wicket, came downtown the other morning looking as if he had just been poured out of a hogshead of 'arf and 'arf.

He complained to a crony that he had been out the evening before and didn't seem to have the recuperative powers of yore.

"My boy," counseled his friend, although Sir Wilmott has not been a boy since shortly after Bannockburn, "you have reached the time when you must make the most important decision of your life. You must make up your mind whether you're going to enjoy your mornings or your evenings. You cannot do both."

IN VIRTUALLY every debate I have heard on the Hollywood probe someone has popped up with:

"Has anything really been accomplished?"

On the surface it may appear that the investigation has been largely fanfare. But it has succeeded in opening the eyes of many to what is going on behind the scenes in Hollywood.

The finger also has been put on many who have hitherto been able to operate in comparative secrecy. Hollywood can no longer pretend it does not know its Communists.

If the investigation produces no other result than to render the moviemakers wary of letting subversive stuff into their pictures, it will have been well worth while.

I will admit I sort of got the idea for the above from Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan, who has nothing to do with the Hollywood Red probe. But he has a lot to do with the war contracts investigation which reopens Wednesday.

"Many people," observed the Senator, "seem to have the wrong slant on what we are trying to accomplish. We are not out to 'get' Howard Hughes or anyone else. Our sole job is, and has been, to expose bad practices in military procurement.

"Many people shrug and say: 'But the war's over! What's the use of raking up old dirt?'

"They forget that the armed services are still procuring millions of dollars' worth of stuff—and will continue to do so. If our expose makes manufacturers and government procurement officers chary of malpractice and connivance from now on we shall have achieved our purpose."

MR. TRUMAN FELT, the St. Louis journalist, who once was invited to write an article, "How Truman Felt, by Truman Felt," received instructions from his office the other day to look up a certain man attached to the office of Charles Luckman's Citizens' Food Committee.

Mr. Felt wandered into Luckman's headquarters and found he had unwittingly invaded a private session on fish.

Mr. Felt did not see how he could back out gracefully, so he sat around until the piscatorial conclave was over.

"It was most instructive," he reported later. "It seems an expert on the Luckman committee had made a startling discovery and was imparting it to his colleagues. He discovered, heaven knows how, that it would be a good thing to catch fish because fish do not eat wheat or corn."

OF COURSE, the halibut in Massachusetts waters like nothing better than a Sunday dish of Boston baked sea beans.

Drill Paratroops In Winter Warfare

PINE CAMP, N. Y., Nov. 3 (AP)—Hundreds of paratroopers, many of them battle veterans, turned outo day to learn the techniques of winter warfare through the Army's "exercise snowdrop."

When snow comes to this military reservation in the heart of northern New York's snowbelt, airborne troops will be called upon to reach their objectives in maneuvers on skis and snow shoes, after parachute jumps.

The real work in store for the 1600 participating troops began this morning.

A twelve-man team of ski experts from Camp Carson, Colo. was on hand to teach skiing.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE CONSTITUTION of the United States includes a first amendment which provides certain freedoms, namely, freedom of speech and of the press, of religious worship and of assembly. But the Constitution provides other rights as well, as stated in the preamble:

"We the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defence, etc."

It is the function of Congress, then, "to insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defence." The Thomas Committee has as its obligation to discover whether "the domestic tranquility" is disturbed and "the common defence" imperiled.

It is obvious rrom the hearings that a powerful conspiracy does exist which can organize American citizens into a line of conduct that they pursue identically and to the same end. Many who witnessed the regimentation of thought and action were amused. Some even interpreted a normal investigation operation of a congressional committee as an attempt to control thought.

Actually all that happened was that two questions which could be answered, without indignity or impairment of constitutional rights, by "yes" or "no," were rejected by identical replies to the effect that the witness would not answer at all.

THIS DOES RAISE the question of "domestic tranquility" and "the common defense." Any country must have the right to protect itself against a force, whether alien or domestic, which exercises a power over its citizens and controls their actions. This is the major issue that the Thomas Committee has raised.

It is a curious situation. The motion picture studios in Hollywood hire a clothes horse or a voice or the face of a doll or a person who knows how to imitate a gangster or a murderer. The studios spend millions of dollars publicizing this individual with the object of creating a public popularity sufficiently large to attract buyers of tickets to motion picture theaters.

In a word, the studios do not hire brilliant minds, competent students of politics or economics, masters and mistresses of wisdom, experience and competence. They simply hire creatures to be built up, as the phrase goes, into "box office" attractions.

But after these mimics and mannequins and imitation-gangsters have been made famous or notorious or celebrated, they suddenly blossom forth as sponsors of meetings, speakers on political issues, attractions employed to bring mobs to listen not to them but to subversive quislings who serve an alien master and who disturb the tranquility of the nation and imperil the common defence. This the Thomas Committee sought to establish as a fact and, in spite of all the efforts of those who confuse license for liberty and treason for freedom, has succeeded. It has definitely established in the public mind that in Hollywood something is very sick and smelly, decadent and dangerous.

THE MAGNATES of Hollywood are placed in the awkward position of having invested millions of dollars in the writers, directors, actors and actresses who have chosen consciously or innocently to become involved in this conspiracy. They naturally prefer to safeguard that investment. It would have been prudent on their part to recognize their responsibilities to their country rather than to their bankers and stockholders, but that is a matter of individual judgment. To put it in the language of Sam Goldwyn, as reported in the New York Times:

"Before the war they had an inquiry and told us to make anti-Nazi pictures. What do they want us to do, make anti-Communist pictures? Is that the way to bring about peace?"

Sam Goldwyn's query seems so naive after the speeches of Vishinsky and Gromyko and the use of the veto more than 20 times in UN and the violence of the Russian attack upon our country, its President and its leading men by official Russians, just as the answers of Emmett Lavery of the Screen Writers Guild were naive. For to Lavery it seemed that the Communist party was something that Americans could belong to, at their choice, without describing themselves as enemies of our tranquility and our common defence.

Most Americans will not take it that way. They will find means of protecting the United States from Hollywood, perhaps by avoiding Hollywood in all its forms.

SLEEP RIVALS AVAK

SEATTLE, Nov. 3 (AP)—Avak Hagopian's arrival in Seattle aboard his special 11-car train failed to create even a ripple of interest.

The 20-year-old self-styled Armenian faith healer arose at 5:45 a. m. to greet well-wishers as his train pulled into the Union Station. No one was there.

Two hours later he emerged again. The platform still was deserted.

Avak then retired to a hotel while 130 Southern Californians making a western tour with him boarded a steamer for Victoria, B. C.

Avak was barred from Canada because his six-month U. S. travel permit has expired.

Hunt for Missing Navy Flier Fails

PEARL HARBOR, Nov. 3 (INS)—The mystery of a missing Navy airman who disappeared while on flying maneuvers over Hawaii Friday was still unsolved today after a two-way search.

The missing man was identified as Shafton Hartzell Dene, 20, electronic technician's mate third class. His next of kin was announced as his father, who lives at Pelham Manor, New York.

Dene was acting as radio operator for Ens. Lowell H. Smith, Long Beach, Cal., pilot of a dive bomber, who said Dene was in the rear cockpit and he last heard from him as the radioman called out the 500-foot altitude mark as the pilot pulled the plane out of a simulated dive bombing attack. The canopy of the rear cockpit was open.

Although officials were guarded in their comments, it was apparent they did not feel the men now in custody were members of the gang. They thought it likely, however, that some of them might know members of the gang.

In an effort to balk any further payroll robberies, a picked squad of 24 detectives, drafted from Boston and 10 other Greater Boston communities, as well as from the State and Metropolitan District Police, were engaged in protective measures under a cloak of secrecy.

Police activity continued on a wide front, meanwhile, with a raid by Fall River officers on a forest hideout believed used by George E. Hayes following his escape from State Prison last Sept. 19.

Capt. Michael Williams said he found a a shack in a pine grove in the North Watuppa pond district in which were bedding, clothing, baggage and three radios, including one tuned to police frequencies.

RECOVER AUTO TAGS

No money was found, Williams said, but some stolen auto plates were recovered. The captain said he learned Hayes left the cabin a week ago to come to Boston and renew contact with underworld figures, a trip that ended in his capture in Cambridge two days ago.

Hayes, 30-year-old former Waltham gunman, was one of the six men under arrest by police in their intensive investigaton into the $110,000 robbery at the Sturtevant plant in Hyde Park last Thursday and the $29,000 payroll holdup at the American Sugar Refining Co. plant in South Boston the following day.

9 SUSPECTS SOUGHT

Police obtained John Doe warwants in municipal court against three more men early in their investigation and have since been issued six more warrants of the same kind for a total o fnine suspects still at large.

Another man suspected of some connection with the big robberies was under arrest in Fall River. An ex-convict, he is being questioned principally on whether he sheltered Hayes, who is known to have fled to Fall River shortly after his break out of prison.

HELD IN $50,000

Still in jail under $50,000 bond is Patrick F. "Patsy" Farina, a former convict who has been barbering at a shop in Allston. He denies any part in the holdups, although a witness to the Hyde Park crime claimed he "closely resembled" the driver of the getaway car.

Both Farina and Bortone were "turned in" to police by informers, and officers are checking the possibility that personal vengeance might have impelled the volunteering of this information. The informer against Bortone was a woman who refused to divulge her identity to police.

Meanwhile, in Cambridge, two men and two young mothers faced court action on charges growing out of the 5 a. m. capture of Hayes in the rear of an apartment house in Harvard st.

Mrs. Lorraine Parron, 18, mother of one child, and Mrs. Grace Safarian, 23, mother of two, who occupy apartments in adjoining houses in Harvard st., were due to be arraigned on charges of harboring a felon.

Frank Correia, 34, of Inman st., Cambridge, was confronted with a variety of lesser charges growing out of the investigation, and his brother Manuel was due to be accused of withholding information.

Police said Frank Correia's car, with a false registration certificate, was found outside the Harvard st. apartment block and Frank was in an apartment near where Hayes was captured.

3 IN CAMBRIDGE

Of the six men rounded up to date, three were picked up by Cambridge police investigating the Hayes case, another was taken for his alleged connections with Hayes and the other two were turned in by informers. Identification of the latter two, through rogues gallery pictures, were said to be "partial."

One detective remarked today:

"We think this gang is still operating intact and we are hoping they don't strike again in the city within the next two days.

"While it would seem more than likely a gang with $140,000 in cash would flee this area and probably head for Florida, we have strong reason to believe they are still in hiding in Greater Boston."

Police emphasized that none of the six in custody now has been eliminated from possible complicity, and their investigation of each suspect continues unabated.

Night Watchman Robbed Of $51 in Malden Holdup

Joseph Boulier, 60, Henry st., Malden, night watchman for a Malden paint company, was held up and robbed of $51 by two men as he was crossing the railroad tracks at Madison st., Malden, on his way to an early morning snack.

The money was in his wallet, which he gave up when one of the men warned him not to look around, "just hand over your money." Ordered to keep moving, Boulier broke into a run and looked back to see two men fleeing in opposite directions.

How Hollywood Got Scarlet Fever

By RUPERT HUGHES

For the first time the true history of the Red domination of the moving picture industry and arts is being revealed. For the first time those in the know are daring to tell what they know. They have been partly terrorized, partly denied avenues of publicity and partly silenced by the more or less stealthy and exceedingly crafty poisoning of the sources by the American Communists.

It is only natural that the Parnell Thomas Committee of Congress should be vilified with hypocritical horror as an instrument of "tyranny," as something "un-American" and contrary to free speech and the Bill of Rights because it turns the national searchlight on elements whose purpose and practice are to be as un-American as they can be, to stifle free speech and turn the Bill of Rights into a bludgeon of wrongs.

NO. 1 TYRANT

I have read a bit of history in my time—and it's a long time—but I have never read of any tyrant in all human chronicle so bloody, so vicious, so merciless, so slithery, so treacherous as Joseph Stalin. He has killed more Russians than Hitler ever did.

Yet Quentin Reynolds on the cover-page of PM dared call the Congressional Committee on un-American activities "similar to Hitler courts." He says nothing of "Stalin courts."

Of these trials Ambassador Davies wrote in his diary, as published, a number of ghastly facts, then broke off with a statement that further details were too horrible to write down even in his diary.

HISTORY TWISTED

Yet, when his diary had been run through the Red network of Hollywood, and given forth as "The Mission to Moscow," those trials were represented as the purest and gentlest indications of justice and mercy in all the history of human courts. The fiendish Stalin was portrayed as one whose smile was the sweetest I ever saw on the screen, and whose compassionate disposition would make a sister of charity look like Lady Macbeth egging her husband on to assassination.

Ambassador Davies was so camera-crazy that he allowed himself to be portrayed as practically the savior of the world. He began with a talking close-up doing a commercial for his own personal epic; then he went fishing with his family, but gave up the well-earned rest on the appeal of President Roosevelt that he go on a mission to Moscow.

He made the sacrifice with wonderful self-denial but turned out to be less a missionary to Moscow than a missionary from Moscow to the United States. He actually allowed himself to be photographed going to a Hollywood England, where he found Winston Churchill (winsomely impersonated by Dudley Field Malone) so ignorant of the menace of Hitler that Ambassador Davies had to beg Churchill to leave his pastime of building brick walls and awaken England to her danger.

MALIGNED CHURCHILL

I have a volume of Churchill's speeches published in 1935 in which he thundered dire warnings of Hitler's growing might and implored England to prepare. But that was merely history.

Along with numberless other Americans, I had been writing articles and making speeches denouncing Hitler and begging for preparedness against the inevitable war long before Davies went to Moscow. But the unpardonable cinema shows Davies playing Paul Revere, and, giving the first alarm to the multitudes in eloquent orations that awoke them to their peril.

IGNORED HITLER PACT

There is nothing in the picture about the fact that gentle Joe, Sweetheart Stalin, later signed a pact with that same Hitler, and joined him in the devastating war with the oft-times avowed purpose of destroying England first, and then annihilating the United States.

The picture said nothing about the fact that while Hitler and Stalin were partners in atrocity the American Communists were so opposed to American preparedness that the Hollywood Reds subscribed big funds to help pay for picketing the White House, because, as they rhymed it, "Eleanor and F. D. R. are all for war," they were buddies with the Bundists.

I myself was hissed and booed for attacking Hitler and his ally, Stalin, in a speech I made at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Suddenly Hitler stabbed Stalin in the back before Stalin could get ready to stab Hitler in the back. Instantly, overnight, the Communist pickets were withdrawn from the White House; and the Communists began to shriek for preparedness instead of against it. They shouted Lend-Lease was a lovely thing, because Uncle Joe needed it. He got it, too—$6,000,000,000 worth of war supplies in short order—as a gift, thanks to Harry Hopkins. And now the wonderful Henry Wallace wants us to lend Pal Joey $16,000,000,000 more just to make him love us.

Pumpkin Pie Grand Dessert

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

MANY OF US THINK of delicious pumpkin pie as a special fall and winter treat—but since it can be made with so little work from canned pumpkin, its popularity is increasing as a year-round dessert.

One especially nice thing about pumpkin pie is that it lends itself so beautifully to garnishes. And the garnishes really accentuate the flavor and attractiveness of the pie. For instance, the pie is greatly enhanced when grated cheese is sprinkled around the edge with slivers of ginger added, or when slivers of pecans are used on top. The nutty flavor of the pecans combines favorably with the custard consistency. Whipped cream is still one of the top favorites for pumpkin pie.

Here is a simple dinner menu which includes pumpkin pie for dessert:

DINNER MENU

Baked Fillet of Flounder
Potatoes
Broccoli with Lemon Butter
Muffins Butter or Margarine
Pumpkin Pie
Coffee

BAKED FILLET OF FLOUNDER

2 lbs. fillets of flounder
1 cup milk
2 tsp. salt
Fine, dry crumbs or cornmeal
3 tbsp. melted butter, margarine, or salad oil

Wash fillets and wipe with cloth. Cut in pieces for serving. Dip fillets in salted milk and roll in crumbs. Arrange on greased oven-proof platter or baking pan. Brush fillets with melted butter, margarine or salad oil. Bake in very hot oven (500 deg. F.) 10 minutes, or until fish is well browned. Serve with tartar sauce in lettuce cups. Makes 6 servings.

LEMON BUTTER

¼ cup butter or margarine
1 tbsp. minced parsley
1 tbsp. lemon juice
Dash of cayenne

Cream butter, add parsley, lemon juice, and cayenne, and mix well. Serve with broiled steak or fish, or boiled vegetables. Makes about ¼ cup sauce.

PUMPKIN PIE

2 large eggs ¾ cup sugar
½ tsp. ginger ½ tsp. nutmeg
½ tsp. ground cloves ½ tsp. salt
1¾ cups canned pumpkin
1 cup evaporated milk
½ cup water pastry
½ lb. sharp cheese ginger strips

Beat the eggs in a mixing bowl. Add sugar, spices, salt, and pumpkin; mix well. Add milk and water and stir until mixture is smooth. Fill a pastry-lined pie pan with pumpkin mixture. Bake in a hot oven (450 deg. F) for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate oven (350 deg. F.) and continue to bake about 45 minutes, or until mixture is firm and crust is well browned. Garnish with grated cheese and strips of ginger. Makes one 9-inch pie.

Note: One 2½ can pumpkin will make two pies. If fluid milk is used, omit the half cup of water and use 1⅓ cups milk.

PUMPKIN TART FILLING OR CUSTARD

Follow the recipe for pumpkin pie, but instead of putting the mixture in a pastry-lined shell, pour it into custard cups or into a shallow pan. Place in a shallow pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 40 minutes or until firm. Use to fill baked tart shells or serve warm or cold as custard, or serve with chilled fruits.

PUMPKIN PIE

Novel Fountain Lip Brush

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE, Beauty and Fashion Editor

A FEW New York trips back we socialized with a friend who had just returned from the West Coast film colony. At the conclusion of our luncheon . . . and as is every woman's unfailing custom . . . she did a lip job.

But she didn't whip out of her purse the ordinary lipstick and make with the necessary color retouching. She took out what appeared to be a gold fountain pen . . . made a few twirls and twists and applied color that magically emanated from a fine sable brush to her lips. Then she unscrewed the cap on the other end and used its tiny ball point as a perfume applicator . . . for out of its confines came the fragrance. Here was a fountain lipstick holder . . . its tip end a soft sable lip-brush . . . and a perfume dispenser all in one beautiful case.

It was one of the niftiest beauty appliances we had seen in many a moon. Naturally, we solicited all the pertinent information. Such as it had been a West Coast beauty item acceptance for the past ten months and that it smoothed over the lips in a film of color . . . instead of a cake. Also, the movie stars had taken it to their hearts AND lips!

We've been most anxious to tell you about this brand new item . . . but parked our impatience until today. For today, a local store has made it a purchasable item . . . and what's the use of writing about new beautifiers unless they are available?

USES EVERY BIT OF LIPSTICK

It uses every bit of lipstick instead of wasting the last one-third as in ordinary cases . . . and has fine leverage for accurate dispensing of the lip coloring to the mouth. It takes any lipstick refill . . . so you can use your favorite at all times.

Automatically . . . the inner plunger forces the coloring on the brush and makes it ready for use. Just a slight turn of the case feeds the lipstick into the base of the brush . . . and the weaving action of the bristles carries the coloring onto the tip of the brush.

In this way, the lips never have that uneven, "blood-smeared" appearance which ordinary lip coloring sometimes transmits to the mouth. Talk about lips made to order . . . this beauty aid is the answer. We've been charmed with ours since receipt of it. It facilitates the lip job tremendously . . . especially around the edges of the mouth . . . too often neglected.

And the concealed holder for perfume at the other end . . . makes the whole idea an appealing one. With its own applicator . . . it expedites the whole business of being feminine throughout the day and evening.

A 24-karat gold-plated holder, it looks, shines and endorses the elegant keynote of the season. A challenge to its creator's ingenuity . . . it is a most satisfactory innovation . . . completely out of the gadget class and a tribute of beauty in any woman's hands. There's a chamois case to carry it in . . . so there will be no scratching of this lip beauty case.

If you are an early Christmas shopper, searching for that something different for that somebody special . . . you couldn't pick up a more unusual gift.

For the name of this unique innovation, a fountain lip brush and perfume dispenser, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, any day except Sunday, or write me, care of the Boston American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

THE GIRL who hasn't learned a few lip tricks is missing one of beauty's best bets. Lovely Vera Ralston is using a fountain lipstick holder, sable brush and perfume dispenser all-in-one . . . a novel and nifty innovation that has come from the West Coast to invade the beauty realms of the East. After the lipstick has been inserted . . . a simple motion forces it out on the brush and on the lips for a clean-cut caper on the kissables. There's a perfume container at the other end of this versatile, gold-plated tube.

Birthday Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Monday, Nov. 3, 1947

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you can face the future with confidence. The stars indicate a period of extraordinary good luck for persons born on this fortunate date. Of course, they will have to stand on their own feet and exert themselves in the proper manner. There's a lot of truth in the old maxim about the gods helping those who help themselves.

Lucky number: 7.
Lucky color: BLUE.
Lucky flower: ASTER.
Lucky stone: SAPPHIRE.

New Tones for Spring

Two jewel tones for spring, canary diamond and pink sapphire, will be comprehensively correlated by members of the Color Co-Op in an unusual presentation to members and guests of the Boston Fashion Group at their luncheon-meeting next Friday in the Hotel Somerset ballroom. An important fashion showing will feature the presentation.

Representatives of 13 fashion-interested manufacturing groups who hold membership in this Color Co-Op will participate in the presentation with Miss Jean Pierre and Miss Adele Benjamin conducting the commentary during the fashion showing. Miss Harriet Wilinsky, Fashion Group regional director, will preside.

The public is invited. Tickets are available at the Hotel Somerset Functions Office. R. M.

Lovely Lace Patterns

By EILEEN CALLAHAN

THE LOVELIEST things are displayed in the simplest settings: flawless diamonds on black velvet, rare and exquisite flowers in plain vases, beautiful laces in dresses of the most simple cut.

Lace with its delicate patterns and fall of fabric must be handled with especially loving care. Otherwise, its frailty becomes just so much yardage and its beauty no more than a dim reflection. The well-made lace dress will be cut on lines that follow the body contours, that flatter and feminize them and that allow for the sweep that will reveal the beauty of the lace in all its delicate patterning.

That this simplicity of structure need not be monotonous is proved in the gown designed by Sally Milgrim and sketched today. It is made of raspberry lace with a skirt that falls into gentle, natural folds. The sidewise drape of the bodice is crossed with two lengthwise lines of the lace. Joined to them at the shoulders are half sleeves that continue across the back in a draped swag.

Coast Guard Trio Good Baby-Sitters

After four days of being cared for by a mechanic, an electrician and a boatswain's mate, a 14-month-old baby was happily back in his mother's lap today and three Coast Guardsmen were happily back on the high seas.

Chief Boatswain's Mate Leo Gracie, 27, Central st., Provincetown, Mechanic 2c Matthew Carnes, 25, Waverly st., Malden, and Asst. Electrician Joseph Gomes, Central st., South Weymouth, took over Boston Light while the keeper and his family (all but one member) went ashore on a shopping tour last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Anderson took two of their children, Carlette, 5, and Ronald, 2, along for the outing, but left Russell, Jr., in his crib at the lighthouse. The storm prevented their return for four days, and the Coast Guard trio learned all about diapers and infant feeding.

Scotland Yard Screens Royal Wedding Route

LONDON, Nov. 3 (INS)—The London Daily Express reported that Scotland Yard operatives today are beginning a close check-up of all buildings and business establishments along the mile-and-one-half route of the forthcoming Royal wedding.

Extra police are being called out in London's West End tonight when the Princess and her fiance accompany King George VI and his Queen to a command performance at the Palladium. A number of American artists are appearing on the program

Margaret's Dates Do Without Police

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 3 (AP)—Margaret Truman, here for a concert tonight, told 24 aspiring journalists from Fort Worth high schools that when she goes out on a date no secret Service men go along.

She said that three Secret Service me anre assigned to protect her, adding:

"But they don't go with me on dates. I settled that with them first thing. If my escort can't protect me, then I'll just do without."

She also: Favored just-below-the-knee skirts; said her father is "all for" her musical career; said she had no one special beau and there's more fun in numbers."

Fire in Medford Stables Laid to Heater Blast

Explosion of an oil heater in the room of a stable boy was given today as cause of the two-alarm fire at the Rita Marie riding stables in Winthrop st., Medford, in which firemen led 32 horses to safety through flames and smoke.

Aiding in the rescue of the animals were John W. Farley, 42, stable manager, his wife, Rita, and four stable hands. Men and apparatus from Arlington, Somerville and Winchester aided the local firemen. Damage was estimated at $5000.

Arab Army Poised For Palestine War

BAGHDAD, Nov. 3 (INS)—Abdul Rahman Azzam, secretary general of the Arab league, warned the Arab armies will "fight to save Palestine against any power attempting to implement partition," but added that the Arabs "do not wish to use force against anyone."

Interviewed on his return to Baghdad from Amman, capital of Trans-Jordan, the Arab spokesman said:

"I am able to confirm that Lebanese, Syrian and Egyptian armies are massing on the Palestine borders now. The Trans-Jordan army is on duty (under British officers) inside Palestine."

GARAGE GOES

ALTOONA, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—H. F. Myers is courteous—as a result he has no garage.

Myers opened his garage doors preparatory to driving in his car, which was parked across the street. But first he graciously yielded the right of way to a five-ton truck.

The truck hooked onto the open garage doors, tearing off the siding of the structure. Then the roof collapsed.

Christopher Fitzgerald Rites Wednesday

Funeral services for Christopher I. Fritzgerald, 87, former chief assessor for Boston, who died Sunday at City Hospital, will be held Wednesday from the home of his son, Charles S., in Hinckley rd., Milton, at 9 a. m.

A solemn high mass of requiem will be celebrated at 10 a. m. in St. Mary of the Mills Church, Milton, by his son, David V. Fitzgerald, pastor of St. Benedict's Church, Somerville. He is survived by two other sons and three daughters.

ANGLO-IRISH PACT SOUGHT

LONDON, Nov. 3 (AP)—Prime minister Eamon De Valera of Eire was in London today to discuss a new Anglo-Irish trade agreement.

"I wuz thinkin'...."

by Izzy Ort

For the last few week ends me manly blood has been boilin' over the t'ought of the many football struggles goin' on at the many gridirons aroun' the country! Wat a wunnerful thing it is that so many lads kin ackuire a collidge education by practicin' mayhem of a Saturday afternoon! Some games I have seen have left me wunderin' if the bruisers wat played in 'em had any brains worth usin' durin' the followin' week. Nuttin' from nuttin' is nuttin', I suppose. I sure enjoy thinkin' back ta the days wen I wus a 140 pound quarterback fer the Gooby Boys football team. We wuz so poor we didn't own a football so we got even by kickin' the opposin' players around. In them days, a guy hadda have two broken legs before he could leave the game. We couldn't spare him—we had no subs! We usta practice by buttin' our heads inta stone walls. I hadda callus so big I couldn't fit my hat on my head! I usta love the game an' I quit only after I got house maid's knee an' lost about four square feet of cuticle. Taday, they got so many rools that a guy is carried off the field if he has a hangnail! Incidently, Larry Randall an' Cooky Mack is servin' up laffs in my Grille this week an' they is the funniest guys sinct Weber an' Fields witch is why the gayest, gay afternoon an' night spot in town is Ort's, 25 Essex St. Advt

Debut on Dec. 29

By BETTY ALDEN

DEBUTANTE JEAN TRAINER of Milton has other things on her mind beside French idioms and math. A freshman at Vassar, Jean is to make her debut during the Christmas holidays and between classes is working on the lists of friends she wants to invite.

The debut will be a dance at The Country Club, Dec. 29, given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Foster Trainer of Milton and Duxbury. Jean is a provisional member of the Junior League and Vincent Club. During the past few summers she has been a volunteer at day camps on the South Shore and worked for the Jordan Hospital fruit and flower mission.

Mrs. Charles E. Bacon

NOTES FROM a Society Editor's Cuff: Mrs. Freeman Hinckley, formerly of Brookline, has closed her summer home at Prouts Neck and left for Chicago. En route she renewed many friendships here while a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Jenney. The Jenneys have left for an autumn sojourn at Hot Springs.

Pleasant romantic news soon to be revealed concerns a popular North Shore girl who is nationally famous in tennis circles.

Chatted with Mrs. Charles E. Bacon at the Women's City Club Harvest Bazaar, where she donned a gay checked taffeta apron to preside over the table of homemade cakes and short breads. Her son being a freshman at Harvard, Mrs. Bacon says her guest rooms are nearly always occupied weekends by his young friends here for the season's most important debutante dances and she greatly enjoys their company.

Trade was brisk at the bag table where Mrs. Frank C. Nichols of Boston was one of the gracious helpers. She wore a becoming gray and gold checked tweed cape suit with matching hat and devoted an afternoon to the fair after a committee meeting of the Morning Musicales.

MRS. STOUGHTON BELL, Mrs. Robert Walcott, Mrs. Fairfield E. Raymond and Mrs. Nathaniel E. Nash will be pourers at the annual meeting and tea of Mount Auburn Hospital Auxiliary Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Bradley Dewey will preside and the principal speaker will be Dr. Norbert A. Wilhelm, president of the Boston Hospital Council and director of Peter Bent Brigham Hospital.

KEEPING UP with the constantly shifting pattern of events in Europe will be simplified for Women's City Club members through a number of interesting lectures on their November calendar.

Tomorrow morning, the club is presenting Raymond Dennett in a lecture about Russia and the United Nations. He is director of the World Peace Foundation, formerly the UNRRA and the State Dept. Mrs. Roland Baker is chairman of the public affairs committee sponsoring the talk and Mrs. Karl Andren chairman of hostesses for the morning, assisted by Mrs. Axel Anderson, Mrs. Frank Clark and Mrs. Paul Bartel. Mrs. Edward Burt and Mrs. Lawrence Dame will pour during the coffee hour preceding Mr. Dennett's program.

On Armistice Day members will hear Edith Sulkin, European traveler and magazine writer, on her experiences in post-war Europe. Hostesses will be Mrs. J. Lowell Stebbins, Miss Alexina LaPointe, Mrs. G. Henri Desmond, Mrs. J. Urban Edgren and Mrs. Oscar Hoss.

Mrs. Cedric W. Foster of Boston, a club member and wife of the news analyst, will speak Nov. 25 about her recent tour of Europe. She will illustrate her talk with her own photographs.

British Bird Film Hit on Exeter Screen

By PEGGY DOYLE

In the stomach-turning concentration of attention being given a current $4,000,000 cinematic waste, it is conceivable that a gem of a little picture presently unreeling on Exeter Street Theater screen may be overlooked.

Modestly budgeted and advertised, sans sex, glamor and "names," "The Tawny Pipit" quietly arrived in this country from England several months ago to surprise Manhattan critics and Little Carnegie audiences into becoming an unofficial and ever-growing claque of praise agents.

Opening here yesterday, it proved to be as delightful and disarming as reported. It is such a simple story that it may seem incredible that it builds to seat's-edge suspense as the entire population of a drowsing English village become an alert guard of bird-watchers around a nesting tawny pipit.

The tawny pipit (Anthus campestris), you see, is a rare bird. Only once before has it bred in England. And so there is contagious excitement when two of them are discovered nesting in a field near the town.

It is an occasion for national pride even though a war is going on. The village poetess is inspired to write a poem to the pipits, the first chorus of which goes:

"It's a very great honor, we're all agreed,
That they came to Lipsbury Lea to breed."

A delegation of ornithological experts descends on the village. A tank is detoured in its maneuvers. A loathsome professional egg-stealer belly-crawls to the nest as the eggs are about to hatch while the watchers are being deliberately distracted.

But, as you will see on the Exeter screen, in democratic countries even birds have their rights.

Bernard Miles and Charles Saunders, the co-directors, have expertly guided this frail little story to retain its freshness and wit and to build to a genuinely suspenseful finish. Miles wrote the story and, in addition to his writer-director chores, he played the retired English colonel, salting the piece with a wonderfully droll characterization.

Another choice villager is the lady poet, at her best when she is reading her creative work to the minister for the first time.

With "The Tawny Pipit" nesting on the Exeter Street Theater screen, bird-watching is a must, my masters.

Tonight

SHUBERT "CALYPSO," with Pearl Primus, famous West Indies dancer, in a new musical revue from Trinidad presented by Samuel L. Manning and Adolph Thenstead. Featured in the cast of 50 are the Smith Kids, the Duke of Iron, Peggy Watson and a large group of native singing and dancing boys and girls. Two weeks.

WILBUR — "A STREETCAR NAMED DESIRE," latest play from Tennessee Williams who authored "Glass Menagerie," features Jessica Tandy, Marlon Brando, Kim Hunter and Karl Malden. Elia Kazan directed the Irene Selznick production, third item of Theater Guild American Theater Society subscription series. Two weeks.

Tomorrow

PLYMOUTH—"EASTWARD IN EDEN," Dorothy Gardner's dramatization of the love story of Emily Dickinson and the Rev. Charles Wadsworth, will be presented by Nancy Stern with Onslow Stevens and Beatrice Straight in leading roles. Donald Oenslager-designed sets and Mary Merch Schenck-designed costumes, circa 1854. Two weeks.

Friday and Saturday

N. E. MUTUAL HALL—"MACBETH," with Fred Graves, will open the Boston Tributary Theater's repertory production of the Shakespeare tragedy.

Continuing

COLONIAL — "OKLAHOMA!" the Theater Guild's wonder musical, tonight begins the final week of a five-week capacity run.

OPERA HOUSE — "SHOW BOAT," the classic modern musical by Jerome Kern and Oscar Hammerstein, 2d, revived by Richard Rodgers and Hammerstein, tonight embarks on the second week of a three-week run. Largest company to tour this season is headed by Billy House, Pamela Caveness, Norwood Smith, Maxine Adams and Amelia Sessions.

November 9

OPERA HOUSE — "MARRIAGE OF FIGARO," with Margaret Brink singing the countess in the New England Opera Theater's presentation under Boris Goldovsky's direction. This is the first offering of the Mozart Festival to be held at the Opera House on three Sunday afternoons at 3 o'clock. The others are "Romeneo," Dec. 21, and "Don Giovanni," Jan. 18.

November 10

COLONIAL—"LADY WINDERMERE'S FAN," the Cornelia Otis Skinner-starring revival of the Oscar Wilde comedy and last season's New York hit, is to be the fourth item in the Guild series. Cecil Beaton, who designed scenery and costumes for London production, has duplicated that production for the American presentation. Limited engagement.

November 17

MAJESTIC — "THE MEDIUM," with Marie Powers' sensationally-acclaimed performing in the Madame Flora role, and "The Telephone," Gian-Carlo Menotti's musical play which last week terminated a successful New York run. The limited run here with the original cast initiates a world tour.

OPERA HOUSE—"THE MERRY WIDOW," Franz Lehar's delightful operetta, will be revived by the Musical Repertoire Company under the aegis of the Messrs. Shubert for a one-week run.

SHUBERT "TONIGHT AT 8:30," starring Gertrude Lawrence in the Noel Coward staged revival of his celebrated group of one-act plays, will open a three-week engagement. Three different plays will be presented at alternate performances.

November 18

PLYMOUTH—"THE LEGEND OF LOU," with Ruth Amos, Lyle Talbot and Wynne Gibson featured in the Hall Shelton production of Stephen Gross' new comedy "of unconventional people slightly on the daft side." Two weeks.

November 24

OPERA HOUSE — "ROSE MARIE," with Rudolf Friml's memorable melodies, will be the second operetta revival offered by the Messrs. Shubert-sponsored Musical Repertoire Company. One week.

Ticket Sale for 'Windemere's Fan'

Tickets are now on sale at the Colonial Theater for the important opening there, a week from tonight, of "Lary Windermere's Fan" for a limited run. The Oscar Wilde comedy played all last season in New York.

Third play written by the master of prose and fine poetry, "Lady Windermere's Fan" was Wilde's first successful play. Overnight he became the toast of London. Incidentally, the first London engagement of this 55-year-old comedy earned Wilde $35,000, a formidable sum in 1892.

BREAKS FILM JINX

"The Winslow Boy" broke the Broadway jinx on British importations. Five of the critics voted for it, three of them vigorously. Of the remaining four only one was really adverse.

'Oklahoma!' Return Engagement Next Year

With the imminent closing of "Oklahoma!" which will come Saturday night, following a five-week engagement of capacity business, it is estimated that more than 5000 persons were turned away at the boxoffice or had their mail order checks returned.

The number is not difficult to calculate because 5000 business reply postcards were given out on behalf of the Theater Guild to disappointed would-be Colonial Theater patrons, assuring them that the Rodgers-Hammerstein musical sensation will return and they will be given priority in the reservations of seats.

The return cannot be for at least a year, however, because the company is booked for a transcontinental tour which will keep it on the Pacific Coast and in the Midwest for seven months, beginning in March.

Checkers Barred At Polling Places

All candidates for office in tomorrow's citywide election were warned today by Election Commission Chairman William A. Motley, Jr., that they will not be permitted to have checkers in the polling places.

Motley said that the presence of checkers causes confusion and interferes

He said the commission expects a substantial turnout of voters at the 362 polling places throughout the city where 2172 election officers, half Republican, half Democrat, will be on duty during the polling hours from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.

JAP FLAG UP AGAIN

TOKYO, Nov. 3 (AP)—Japan's rising sun flag flew over the imperial palace today for the first time since the occupation began.

Gen. MacArthur said last May the flag could be flown over the palace, but the Japanese waited until today—the anniversary of Emperor Meiji's birthday and the first anniversary of the promulgation of the new constitution

Money To Loan

I'm SOLD on YOU!

● IN MY BUSINESS, you can't guess—you've got to know. So when I say that I'm sold on local people my statement is based on knowledge.

I know that they are reliable. As manager of this office, I've made hundreds of loans during the past twelve months; many on salary alone, others on car or furniture.

I know that folks in this community use common sense in managing their affairs. You'd see what I mean if you could sit in with me on a loan request. My customers use their credit for good, constructive purposes like cleaning up old debts . . . paying taxes . . . putting a son or daughter through school . . . meeting sudden emergencies or taking advantage of a business opportunity.

I Say "YES" to 4 Out of 5

Because I'm sold on the people in our community, I have been able to say "Yes" to 4 out of 5 people who request a loan here. (That's why folks call me the YES MAN.) I—and I alone—have the authority to honor your loan request here.

Most times, I can say "Yes" right away. The few times when I can't say "Yes" at once, the customer and I talk it over to see how I can make the loan. You'd be surprised how many times I find a way to say "Yes" to loan requests that others can't or won't consider.

YOU!

With living expenses increasing and making both ends meet becoming more difficult daily, many folks find a loan the sensible solution to their money problems. Don't borrow unnecessarily but if—like so many others—that's your problem, don't risk a "no" elsewhere. Phone me . . . or come in and ask for the YES MAN. I'll be grateful for the chance to say "Yes" to YOU.

Yanks' Gallant Try For Victory Pleases Fans

Jack Conway

By JACK CONWAY

Ted Collins and Coach Clipper Smith have reason to be enthusiastic over the brilliant showing the Yanks made against the Chicago Bears before 24,894 cash customers at Fenway Park. It was not until the last ten minutes of play that the Bears were able to score the touchdown that gave them the margin of victory.

Collins has poured thousands of dollars into the Yanks, but he has not gained any results until this season. The Yanks impressed as they won from the Giants. They exploded and looked like one of the top ranking teams in the league as they led the Bears until ten minutes of the completion of the game.

Seno, Paschal, Maznicki, Scollard and the other Yanks' players put on one of the best professional football shows ever witnessed in this city. The fact the Bears scored a touchdown in the opening period did not discourage the Yanks who later came back to make the score 14 to 14 at the half.

The Yanks were leading 21 to 14 going into the fourth period. Scollard kicked a 38-yard place kick to bring the Yanks' total to 24, but all this was offset by two Bears' touchdowns.

Clipper Smith has developed the Yanks by slow stages, and with the arrival of November he has a team that is vastly improved. It is to be regretted that a larger crowd was not in attendance.

Notre Dame-Army Top Football Attractions

The football spotlight will be on the Notre Dame campus just outside of South Bend, Indiana, on Saturday where the Irish will battle the Army in what promises to be one of the outstanding gridiron battles of the year. On what Notre Dame showed as they defeated the Navy and in their other contests this season Frank Leahy's club will be a favorite to win.

Notre Dame's only regret is that it will not be meeting an undefeated Army team. The Cadets' only defeat in three and a half years was administered by Lou Little's Columbia team by a score of 21 to 20.

A capacity crowd of 56,000 will jam every available inch of space in the Notre Dame Stadium. With hotel accommodations limited at South Bend, most of the visitors who will attend the game will make their headquarters in Chicago.

Heavyweights Always Prove Best Attractions

Heavyweight boxers always prove the best ring attractions which is why so much attention has been given to Joe Louis as he prepares to start training at West Baden, Indiana, for his New York Garden bout on Dec. 5 with Jersey Joe Walcott. Louis announces he may agree to meet Gus Lesnevich in a spring bout.

It is well for Louis he is not meeting Lesnevich in December. The light heavyweight champion would have to spot the "Brown Bomber" 20 to 25 pounds in weight, but he would prove much faster and he would have a chance of defeating a Louis who has not seen ring action since he knocked out Tami Mauriello a year ago last September.

Boston boxing promoters are also turning to heavyweights. If Dulio Spagnolo wins from Mike Fisher of St. Paul in a ten-round bout at a Callahan A. C. show at the Arena tonight, he will be signed to take on Tommy Sullivan of South Boston. A Spagnolo-Sullivan bout would bring back memories of the Bertazolo-Maloney contests. Phil Buccola managed Bertazolla and now feels he has a new Italian star in Spagnolo. The Bertazolla-Maloney bout in the Garden drew a capacity crowd, while the second meeting at Braves Field set an attendance mark of $54,000.

The Johnny Shkor-Walter Heafer bout at the Arena on Friday night will also see heavyweights in action. Shkor made his best ring appearance when he knocked out Tami Mauriello. Shkor has a good chance to get a crack at the boxing elect if he can start a winning streak in the Heafer tussle.

Public Will Support Top Boxing Attractions

If our local matchmakers, Rip Valenti, Sam Silverman and Jimmy Mede, can secure proper matches they will find increased crowds at their ring offerings. The only reason there are small gatherings at certain ring shows is because the attraction does not appeal to the public.

On the occasion of the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund show at the Garden, the gross gate reached $37,000. This was because it was a top offering. It was not necessary for the club's ballyhoo artist to labor overtime trying to arouse the interest of the fans. Sam Silverman says that as soon as the card was announced there was a $5000 sale.

The same condition has held true in connection with the bout between Ralph Zannelli and Al (Red) Priest which will be staged by the Callahan A. C. at the Garden on Nov. 24. Zanelli recently handed Priest a decisive defeat in Providence and won the New England middleweight title. Zannelli's victory was a surprise to boxing fans, and especially to Priest's followers in Cambridge. This will result in a near capacity crowd when Zannelli, the new champion, places his title on the line.

Zannelli has always had great ring potentialities, but it was not until the Priest bout that he clicked all through a bout. The fact that Zannelli, a former stablemate of Priest's, was sidetracked by Johnny Buckley for the Cambridge boxer aroused a new fire in Zannelli.

O'Connor Corks Right At Chandler

CHICAGO, Nov. 3 (AP)—Just how far the Chicago White Sox want to string along with Leslie M. O'Connor, their suspended general-manager, in his threotened court fight against baseball Comm. A. B. Chandler, presumably will be discussed at a meeting of club directors tomorrow.

The meeting was announced by O'Connor, who has done all of the club's talking thus far in his now—celebrated revolt against Chandler's action in suspending O'Connor and the White Sox for refusal to pay a $500 fine assessed for signing a high school pitcher.

What the reigning Comiskey clan, headed by Mrs. George R. Comiskey, club president, think about O'Connor's threat to file civil suit to force his re-instatement by Chandler is conjectural.

None of the baseball family which also includes 22-year-old Charles Comiskey II, being groomed to carry on the dynasty founded by his grandfather, the famed "Old Roman," Charles A. Comiskey; Mrs. Dorothy Comiskey Rigney, club treasurer, and Grace Lu Comiskey, assistant secretary, has commented publicly on the O'Connor rebellion.

Despite O'Connor's claims that Chandler exceeded his authority "in interpretting a rule that isn't in the book," the American League has indicated the White Sox will be strictly on their own in any legal venture against the commissioner and, as far as league president Will Harridge is concerned, his circuit has only seven members at this reading.

LATO MEETS RINDONI

Carmine Lato, Providence, R. I., will show before the home folks tonight when he mingles with Joe Rindoni of Boston at the Auditorium over the 10 round route. The Boston southpaw is on a winning streak and hopes to extend it at the expense of Lato.

BOWL EYES B. C.

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 3 (AP)—The Orange Bowl committee will have its eye on three football games in the East this week end, lookingtoward a team to play in the New Year's Day game in this city.

A delegation of 60 members will go North to see Georgia Tech play the Navy in Baltimore, Virginia meet Pennsylvania in Philadelphia and Wake Forest tangle with Boston College in Boston.

Michigan Fears Rising Badgers

CHICAGO, Nov. 3 (AP)—Michigan's undefeated Wolverines, who thought that once they had hurdled rough Illinois they could curl up with a good book on Rose Bowl lore, now are wondering whether they might be "Badgered" out of the Big Nine title.

Wisconsin, resurging after an humiliating 48-7 Non-Conference trouncing by California three weeks ago, is favored to dispose of Iowa this Saturday and plow into Michigan at Madison, Wis., on Nov. 15 unbeaten, but once tied, in four Conference games.

Michigan, granting a Wolverine triumph over erratic Indiana before an expected 86,000 at Ann Arbor this week-end, will invade Madison with a 4-0 record, thus presumably facing the amazing Badgers in a title showdown.

What's more, Purdue, whose only setback in four league starts was an opening 32-14 defeat by Wisconsin—also has a chance for at least a title tie.

THE COLONEL SAYS:

What we need, first off, is a man in public life who will lead the fight on behalf of hundreds of thousands of youngsters who now seem to have no voice, and I wish to tell the fathers and mothers of Boston children that such a man now is running for the school committee. His name is George Kenneally. He is coach of a Revere High School football team which asks favors of no team, in its class or out of its class. He is painfully honest. He is highly intelligent. And he knows practically all there is to know about the problems and the needs of the younger generation.

"Yes, I'd like to see George Kenneally on the school committee here in Boston, and if this sounds like a campaign speech for him, that's exactly what it is. You see, I have a decided advantage over you.

Leahy Debates Shift of Lujack From QB to FB

Frank Leahy

By FRANK LEAHY
Head Coach, Notre Dame University

Well, there are not many of us left—meaning major unbeaten and untied teams. And, like the survivors of a shipwreck with high waves all around, we are hoping for the best and fearing the worse.

Let's count noses among the survivors of Saturday's tempest, Michigan, Georgia Tech, Pennsylvania, Southern Methodist, Penn State, Notre Dame and Virginia. Texas was shoved overboard, 14-13, by Matty Bell's tough Mustangs. That leaves seven. Wonder who goes overboard next? Speaking for ourselves, we face a resurgent, determined Army next Saturday at South Bend and the decks may become very treacherous for the Irish.

Pennsylvania faces Virginia and as Harvard has testified the Cavaliers are like gentlemen jockeys, they like to win. Penn showed its power Saturday in defeating Princeton, 26-7, and Virginia exercised its strong muscles with a 34-0 victory over little Richmond.

We think Penn will emerge victorious, but this could be the spot for the Red and Blue to lose one of those close ones, a habit that has brought sorrow to George Munger's lads in the past.

Southern Methodist's hard-fought triumph over Texas brought deserved credit to a really great coach, Matty Bell. Matty returned to coaching duties last fall after several years in service and the manner in which he adjusted himself to the fast changing gridiron situation was most heart warming, indeed. You look good in the shadow of the Cotton Bowl, Matty.

The Mustangs' one-point victory also turned the spotlight directly on Doak Walker, a magnificent back who passed, ran and kicked his side on top against his schoolboy chum, Bobby Layne. We are happy to add that even in defeat Layne lived up to his glittering reputation. That's the test of a great player.

Bobby Did added another notch to his stature as a gridiron mentor when his Engineers defeated Wally Wade's Blue Devils of Duke, 7-0. Tech faces Navy next Saturday and Bobby had better have his aerial guns ready because no one is going to run over that Navy line as we learned last Saturday.

Southern California continued to rip along with a 19-0 triumph over Washington. And let's not overlook another fine team out West. Utah remained unbeaten by taking Colorado, 13-7. Those lads play a fine brand of ball out that way.

Army's thumping 65-13 win over Washington and Lee didn't exactly help our digestion.

As for my own lads, they played their best game of the year against Navy. Johnny Lujack was all that any coach could ask of both a passer and T-formation quarterback. His understudy, 19-year-old Frank Tripucka, also did everything you could ask of a quarterback and passer.

With the fullback department weak from injuries, we may yet use Lujack at that position with Tripucka at quarter. This would enable us to utilize Lujack's fine running ability.

In the selection department, we had rather a rough day with eleven losers against 26 winners. This brought our season's total to 147 winners, 53 losers and eight ties. Maybe we'd better leave the prophecy department to the Broadway columnists.

Boston Yanks Establish Themselves as Hot Team

By HUCK FINNEGAN

What a difference just three weeks can make! There were the Yanks on Columbus Day being booed as they left the field after looking most inept and being shellacked by Pittsburgh's Steelers. And there were the Yanks today being cheered to the echo as they took off for Los Angeles to meet Bob Snyder's Rams next Sunday. All because they looked like a thoroughbred pro outfit, though losing to Chicago's Bears 28-24 before 24,894 at Fenway.

"Yanks have improved 500 per cent since I saw them last," said George Halas whose Bears beat 'em 35-20 in a pre-season exhibition game. "Believe me, I had many anxious moments in the game, and it was the first time I ever held a complete team huddle before the fourth period. I wasn't haranguing the boys. I was merely urging them to play ball."

They played it. Trailing 14-24 one minute after the last period opened, the Bears performed like the champs they can be. Starting on their own 26, they made a TD in seven plays. Mike Holovak opened proceedings with a 22-yard gain through the middle. Then Luckman completed six successive passes, the last to Ken Kavanaugh, for the score.

Starting later on their own 33, the Bears made two first downs on two plays and had the ball on the Yanks 46. Two Luckman passes failed, but the third sent Kavanaugh to the 36 for another first down, and the fourth took the ubiquitous Kav into the end zone for the clincher.

They're great, the Bears. Luckman says Sammy Baugh is the best forward passer in the pro game, but Baugh seldom has passed like Luckman did against the Yanks. He completed 23 of 46 passes for 274 yards, and Yanks publicists Arthur Sampson and Murray Kramer still are delving into the football tomes to learn if that isn't a record.

The Bears won in that fourth period, "coming off the floor" as Halas said proudly. But the Yanks were supreme for three periods, and that was enough to make the fans cheer Dancewicz, Maznicki and Seno to the rafters.

"That's the end of pro football in Boston," said critics after the Pittsburgh-Boston debacle. "That's the beginning of pro football in Boston," said the same critics after viewing the Yanks-Bears game.

Kate Smith was so excited as the Yanks dominated the early play that she didn't have time to accommodate the hundreds of autograph seekers who were jamming around her seat.

A Luckman-McLean pass for 19 yards had given the Bears a 7-0 lead in the first period. Seno's 86-yard runback of Gulyanic's punt equalized the score early in the second period. A 22-yard Luckman-McLean pass put the Bears in the lead again, but a 41-yard Dancewicz-Crisler pass started the Yanks off. Helped by two penalties on the Bears, Pascal finally bulled his way over from the six for the tying score, Maznicki converting.

How the crowd cheered then, the same crowd that razzed them three weeks ago. Fans love a scrapper, and the Yanks were scrapping.

Third period opened with the Yanks taking over. On the first play from scrimmage, Maznicki picked up a Kindt fumble on the Bears' 30 and with the help of Goldman's shoulder blocking raced for a TD. Yowee!

Play was in Bears' territory throughout the period. Godwin intercepted a pass, and in a moment Yanks had a first down on the Bears' nine. No TD followed, however, and that hurt.

So did the failure to score from the five a moment later. Can't make mistakes like that without hearing from them. But when Scollard booted a 38-yard field goal on the first play of the last period, Boston fans were humming: "This is our lucky day."

Not against a champ like the Bears. In camp McAfee ("Turning point of the game," said Halas). In came glue-fingered ends Keane and Kavanaugh. Luckman did the rest.

Oh, it was discouraging to lose after leading 24-14, but the fans didn't mind too much. They saw pro football played as it should be played, and for the first time this season they cheered like undergraduates as the beaten Yanks left the field. They'll be back for more three weeks hence.

Pics' Rally Creates Tie

Little Steve Gaber, hustling right wing rookie of the Olympics, and veteran Marcel Fillion collaborated for a score only 67 seconds from the final bell to give the Pics a hard-earned 3-3 deadlock with the Atlantic City Sea Gulls last night at the Arena in an Eastern League tilt. The crowd was only 4600.

Fillion's back-hand lift of Gaber's short pass from the right side of the net at 18:53, aided by the failure of one of the Gulls to clear, came with Harry Kazarian, Gull defenseman in the box, but, oddly enough, the Gulls had taken a 3-2 lead at 17:01 while Boston was short-handed.

H. C. Grid Tactics Bewildering

By BILL GRIMES

Along with still undefeated and untied Trinity, Wesleyan and New Hampshire, th New England college elevens to do themselves proud on Saturday last were Brown, Tuft and Dartmouth.

The Brunonians came from behind twice to beat Holy Cross for the first time in five years. Operating from a single wing, and aided by a fumble and a pass interference penalty, the Crusaders were leading 12 to 0 in the second period. Trailing by five points starting the second half, Brown moved into the lead when Don Campbell, grabbed an Eddie Finn forward in the end zone. On the third play of the final period, Vito Kissell came out of a "T" formation and ankled 53 yards for a "T. D." and "The Cross" was out in front again. But, not for long. "Rip" Engle's Bears marched the length of the field after Kozy Kozak ran the kick-off back to his own 40-yard stripe. With the score knotted at 19-19, Joe Condon came in and booted the all-important extra point.

The "Monday Morning Quarterbacks" are in a huddle trying to figure out why Holy Cross discarded the "Single Wing," for the "T" and the first half, during which they twice crossed the Brown goal line.

After the Tufts' 13 to 7 victory over Amherst, Coach Fred "Fish" Ellis has forgotten the setbacks his Jumbos received from Bates and Rochester. It had been 35 years since a Tufts eleven had won over the Lord Jeffs. Although Amherst doesn't measure up to the pre-war elevens developed by Lloyd Jordan, it was a grand win for the Jumbos.

Playing its sixth straight major contest, Dartmouth came through with two touchdowns in the fourth quarter and had the powerful Yale Bulldog sending out frantic S.O.S. messages when the final whistle blew.

After the game, the statisticians discovered that the Big Green had been robbed of a down just before the close of the first half. Dartmouth had the ball on Yale's 45 and it was first down. Joe Sullivan failed to gain on a buck, a pass Sullivan to Williams was completed but lost two yards and then, following a grounded forward, Referee Francis Brennan, gave the ball to the Elis.

Time was running out but the gun wasn't fired until Billy Booe had booted a placement goal from from the 25-yard line. It was a forward on the end of a lateral, which went from Furse to Fitzgerald to Setear, that set the stage for the field goal.

Due to the shortage of manpower, Sullivan and George Schreck, who have been sixty minute men most of the season, had to go through the Yale game without relief. In fact, Coach McLaughry used only 23 Indians against the Elis and at least three of his replacements are only "stand ins."

The Indians of the North has been tied by Holy Cross and beaten soundly by Penn, but they are the most courageous and best schooled in the fundamentals of football, that ever wore the Dartmouth green.

The Rutgers' Queensmen made Harvard look more inferior than the Virginia Cavaliers did three weeks ago at Charlotteville. As predicted here, Rutgers was stronger and Harvard weaker than a year ago. The Scarlet didn't really open up until the third period. Then, they made three sallies across the Crimson's goal line. And, with the score 31 to 7, Coach Harvey Harman used an army of substitutes in the final quarter.

Harvard has been short handed due to injuries practically all fall. But, the Crimson should have made better showings than the exhibitions against B. U., Virginia, Holy Cross, Dartmouth and Rutgers. There's something wrong somewhere along the line.

As was expected Boston College romped through Georgtown and B. U. had no trouble with Fordham, although the small turnout was disappointing to the Terriers.

In the Pine Tree State championship (first round), Maine walked all over Colby at Waterville and Bates beat Bowdoin by the margin of a safety, while in the "Big Nine," Michigan practically clinched the title with a victory over Illinois, Wisconsin took Northwestern, Purdue knocked off Iowa and Indiana took close one from Ohio State.

Army turned on W. & I. and reduced the "Generals" to buck privates, Columbia grounded out a 22-to 0 win over Cornell and William & Mary hung a 21 to defeat on the Wake Forest Deacons, who will meet Boston College this week at Braves Field.

Now, there are only 11 major elevens with perfect records, for Doak Walker, Southern Methodist's "ace" outpitched Bobby Layne, his schoolboy pal, and the Mustangs nosed out the Texas Longhorns, 14 to 13 at Dallas.

Notre Dame retained his top ranking position by beating Navy 21 to 0 at Cleveland and Penn State (replaced Michican) has the country's leading scorers by beating Colgate 46 to 0, which was the Nittany Lions' 300th victory in 6 years of gridiron campaigning.

Pennsylvania and Virginia remained in the select group with wins over Princeton and Richmond, respectively. Georgia Tech dumped Duke and Utah stayed with the "big shots" by beating Colorado.

Mississippi bounced back and took a 20 to 18 decision from L. S. A., Alabama continued in the win column with a 13 to 0 victory over Kentucky and General Bob Neyland's Tennessee Vols suffered their fourth straight Southern Conference defeat at the hands of North Carolina Tarheels.

Out of the Pacific Coast, California handed the Uclans their second straight setback, after taking a 39 to 14 drubbing from Southern Cal; the previous week.

New England's three undefeated and untied elevens breezed through on Saturday. New Hampshire beat the ears off Northeastern, Trinity swamped Worcester Tech and Wesleyan chalked up its twelfth straight victory with a 25 to 15 win over Haverford.

NEW GRID FAN AIDS

PULLMAN, Wash., Nov. 3 (AP)—Washington State football coach Phil Sorboe, who once devised a system of jersey numbers for his players to help fans identify backs from linemen during a play, has come up with a new spectator aid.

Sorboe has equipped Rogers Field with line markers reading "55, 60, 65, 70" and so on up to 90 on each side of the 50-yard line "to eliminate all the adding and subtracting in figuring yardage."

"The new system has proved very valuable to fans, sports writers and radio announcers during the season," Sorboe contends.

25 Elevens Still Un-Un

Twenty-five of the nation's college football teams still sported perfect records today after a week-end in which Texas and five smaller schools were dropped from the ranks of the unbeaten and untied, the Associated Press notes.

Texas was ousted by Southern Methodist, which protected its perfect mark in six appearances by the narrowest of margins, 14-13.

Fou rof the all-victorious clubs have won seven games. They are Cameron (Okla.) Aggies, West Chester (Pa.) Teachers, East Texas State and Loras of Iowa.

Michigan, Penn State, Virginia, Georgia Tech, Utah and Southern Methodist are among those with six wins, while Notre Dame and Pennsylvania have won five.

Eagles Prepare Defense For Overhead Attack

A slam-bang aerial thriller can be expected when the Wake Forest Deacons clash with Boston College at Braves Field Saturday afternoon. The Southerners have no less than three sterling passers and a half dozen glue-fingered receivers. The Eagles, too, figure to take to the air lanes since the Wake Forest forward wall is a strong, formidable aggregation.

One of the lightest men on the squad at 167 pounds, Tom Fetzer, 20-year-old junior, is the leading tosser on the Demon Deacons. A triple-threat tailback, Fetzer understudied John "Red" Cochran and Nick Sacrinty last season and shows promise of overshadowing both of his predecessors. Both Cochran and Sacrinty are now in the pro ranks, Cochran with the Chicago Cardinals and Sacrinty with the Bears.

Fetzer played on the '44 Wake Forest team as a freshman and earned a letter before serving two years in the Navy. A standout passer, a capable kicker and an elusive ball toter, Fetzer is also an outstanding defensive back. Although he lacks weight, he's good on pass defense and backs up the line very well.

Halfback James "Bud" Lail, one of the best broken field runners on the squad, is another talented passer. A 22-year-old junior, Lail stands 6 ft. 1 in. and weighs 195 pounds. Fast and shifty, Lail is equally as dangerous as Fetzer when he's in the backfield.

An excellent passer, Gregus can toss 'em from a stationary position and can take off and throw a bulls-eye on the dead run. He can rifle a bullet pass and he can send a soft floater through the air.

Gregus does not boot, which takes away from the triple-threat label but what he doesn't have in kicking ability he more than offsets in running and passing.

Although not a speed demon by any means, Gregus is nevertheless possessor of better than average speed. He runs and drives hard and has the knack of stopping on the dead run, dodging a couple of would-be tacklers, changing his course of direction and setting sail again.

He gathers speed as he goes along and once in the open is an extremely difficult target to bring down. He's equally effective whether he's pounding the line or skirting the ends.

Bruins Lose; Now in Tie

DETROIT, Nov. 3 (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings knocked the Boston Bruins out of their undisputed National Hockey League lead last night by treating a crowd of 13,375 fans to a 2 to 1 victory over the pace-setters.

Detroit's fourth win in seven games hoisted the Red Wings into a first-place tie with the Bruins, who absorbed their second setback of the season here after playing a 1-all tie with Toronto last night.

Rookie center Max McNab tipped in Jerry Couture's long shot to give the Red Wings a 1-0 lead early in the second period and Armand "Bep" Guidolin, who came to Detroit from Boston this season in a swap for Billy Taylor, slammed in a sharp angle shot after 6½ minutes of the final stanza to count what proved to be the winning goal.

Ski Officials Announce Heaviest Slate in Years

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

PITTSFIELD, Nov. 3—Setting a new high in enthusiasm and numbers, the 25th annual U. S. Eastern Amateur Ski Ass'n convention wound up here yesterday. Almost under the shadow of snow-topped Mt. Greylock, with the nearly 300 delegates and members of over 50 ski clubs agreeing that the biggest season in New England's winter sports history was at hand.

Sixty-five downhill, slalom, cross-country and jumping meets were sanctioned for this winter, the largest number since before the war.

Douglas Burckett of Cambridge was elected president of the association for the second consecutive year. Other officers named were Larry Briggs, Amherst, first vice-president; Harry Walter Voege, New York, second vice-president; Robert P. Booth, Manchester, N. H., treasurer, and Edwin D. Eaton, South Windsor, Ct., secretary.

The annual ski safety trophy award was made to Henry Paris, of the Innitou Ski Runners, Woburn, who earned the coveted honor through his many exciting rescues of injured skiers in Tuckerman ravine last year.

Important news to all skiers was Pres. Burckett's announcement that the centers for snow reports would be increased 50 per cent this season. This means that no less than 47 key spots will send forth conditions twice daily, and they will be relayed via the East Boston Weather Bureau for all newspapers, radio stations and the like.

The expected discussions ensued concerning the question of "open meets," plus the difference between "professional" and "amateur" competitors. It was decided to abide by the latest F. I. S. rules governing racers, but much more will be heard on this vital subject in the future. It is the writer's opinion that all meets should be "open."

Other business involved proficiency test talks, ski patrol data, proposed amendments, junior and interscholastic skiing, and classification rules.

SKI SHOTS: Among the familiar faces on hand were those of Hannes Schneider, head of the famed Eastern Slope Ski School; Sol Hannah of Franconia, N. H., a former Olympic skier; Mrs. Janet Mead of Pico Peak, Vermont, whose daughter Andrea is on the present Olympic squad; Fred Nachbau, Laconia, N. H. instructor; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pabst, Jr., owners of Big Bromley, Vermont; Alex Bright, another erstwhile Olympic ace, of Boston; Carroll Reed, of North Conway, N. H.; Ken Suhl, Johnny Ericksen, and Alf Halverson, old-time jumpers; and Sepp Ruschp, of Stowe, Vermont.

The Berkshire ski areas are ready for the snow to fly, with Jiminy Peak the latest addition to a list which embraces Bousquets, Dutch Hill, Chickley Alp, Farnums, Otis Ridge, The Black Panther region, and others.

HUNTING NOTES: The woods were teeming with gunners Saturday, all of whom had waited eagerly for the forest ban to be lifted. We chatted with conservation officer, Fred Knurow, who covered seven townships in Berkshire County and he states: "Scores of hunters were out after game. I saw several nice pheasants that had been bagged, and the birds appear to be more numerous than last fall, for they've had more opportunity to spread out after being released.

Ski Dates

These dates were among those sanctioned:

Moravec Gets Apartment

Vince Moravec, Harvard fullback sidelined for the season with a leg injury received in the Virginia game three weeks ago, moved out of the Stillman Infirmary into a brand new apartment.

Moravec had been living in an upper story room on Revere st., Boston, prior to his injury. The word was spread that the Harvard husky would be confined to crutches for a long period and that the climb to an upper story room would be difficult.

So Maurice Gordon, 67 University rd., Brookline, a Harvard football fan of long standing, turned over a first floor apartment in his own building to the captain of the Harvard football team. The new home is located at 1258 Commonwealth ave.

Close Call—A shattered windshield, knocked out of its frame by the impact, rests on top of Eddie Heusted, of Clearwater, Cal., as he lies seriously injured in his automobile after it struck a telephone pole in that city. The pole is visible through the empty frame. An inch closer, according to rescuers, and Heusted would have been instantly killed.
